16TH YEAR. NO. 140. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1900. TWO CENTS

CUNNINGHAM WAS DISCHARGED

He Was Given a Hearing Before Mayor Huxley at Salem This Morning.

NO EVIDENCE WAS INTRODUCED

Couldn't Be Proved That He Fired the Shot Which Injured Laura Green.

MILLER STORY PROBABLY TRUE

Harry Cunningham, the potter who was accused of having shot Miss Laura Green, of this city, was given a hearing in Salem this morning before Mayor Huxley.

Sheriff Noragon and Deputy Sheriff Bick were present at the hearing, but no evidence was submitted and Cunningham was discharged by the mayor.

Mrs. Mary Green and her daughter, Miss Laura Green, of this city, were present when the time arrived to call the case, but it was deemed best to not go ahead with the trial, as the story of the Miller girl, who says she did the shooting, seems to be true.

The story told by her was at first discredited, but it now appears as though the shooting really was accidental.

Miss Laura Green, who was shot, refused to give any testimony that would incriminate Cunningham, and it seems as though the case which has created such a stir is now at an end.

SENSATIONAL.

DISCLOSURES MADE AGAINST A LISBON DOCTOR.

Mrs. Martha Miller, of Alliance, Claimed to be a Victim of a Mysterious Transaction.

Readers of the News Review will remember reading in the colmuns of this paper a story in regard to a Chicago man thrashing Dr. Beilhart, a spiritualist, who conducts a sanitarium and prints a spiritualist paper at Lisbon.

The following, taken from the Alliance Leader in regard to the doctor, will be interesting:

J. J. Yochum, of North Liberty avenue, went to Lisbon today on business connected with the property of Miss Martha Miller, who recently resided here.

It seems that several months ago Miss Miller, who inherited considerable property from her father, who owned a business place on Main street, opened up a correspondence with Dr. Beilhart, who has a sanitarium near Lisbon.

Miss Miller at that time was suffering from some illness, the outcome of which she was fearful of. Accordingly she made arrangements with Dr. Beilhart to enter his hospital. However, he informed her that before she could enter, it would be necessary for her to transfer all her earthly possessions to him, as only in that way would a cure be effected. This she did. Having sold her property on Main street and converted all her goods into cash, she then entered the hospital, after having turned over, as it is claimed, all her money to Dr. Beilhart.

Relatives in this city have for some time been suspicious of the whole transaction. Recently a rumor came to them that the doctor had built a handsome new residence from the funds of Miss Miller, and she was getting no better. This fact, together with the difficulty experienced in hearing from the woman, has aroused their anxiety and today Mr. Yochum went to Lisbon. In an interview he stated that he would attempt to recover Miss Miller's property. The amount claimed to have been turned over to Dr. Beilhart is about $3,000.

The affair is an extremely sensational one, and its outcome is watched with no little interest.

PETE CURREN

SEVERELY WRENCHED HIS RIGHT LEG YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Had Thrown a Sponge Full of Slip And Was Endeavoring to Escape.

Pete Curren, of West End, employed as a batter out at the Smith & McNicol pottery, Wellsville, while at work yesterday morning met with a very painful accident, and one which will likely lay him up for some time to come.

Curren threw a sponge full of slip at another employe, and in attempting to escape a like dose he turned abruptly, and in some manner wrenched his right leg so that he was unable to set his foot upon the ground.

The accident was a very painful one and the young man was compelled to quit work. He sustained a severe sprain, and it will be several days before he is able to return to work. Meanwhile the jigger of J. M. Grafton, upon which Curren worked, will be idle.

HEART FAILED HIM.

Jacob Seitz Didn't Have the Heart to Kill His Dog And Officer Dawson Shot It.

When Jacob Seitz undertook to shoot his dog yesterday afternoon his heart failed him, and he was compelled to give it up.

It will be remembered the dog bit a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Oschman and was ordered killed by the mayor.

Officer Dawson went to the Seitz house on Walnut street about 3 o'clock yesterday, and finding the animal had not yet been dispatched, shot it.

The dog was a valuable one, being valued by its owner at $50.

ABUSED THE HORSES.

Spectators Complained About the Inhuman Treatment of a Fine Team.

Last evening the driver of the horses which were used to pull the street car back on the track at the corner of Second and Washington streets whipped the faithful animals in an unmerciful manner.

Spectators complained and the driver desisted. If an officer could have been found at the time the man would have been arrested.

The case will be reported to Humane Agent Miller.

Reilly Got Judgment.

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Judgment was rendered in court for $1,585 in favor of James W. Reilly, of Wellsville, and against Elizabeth Armstrong.

The amount was due on promissory notes and was secured by mortgages on lots in Alexander Wells' addition to Wellsville.

On October 13 Gourley was passing along the sidewalk when the employe of the defendant company, in willful disregard of the safety of those passing, threw a lot of material down upon the sidewalk. A large piece of timber struck the plaintiff on the head, rendering him unconscious and cutting a deep gash in his forehead near the right eye.

EAST LIVERPOOL POTTERY IS SUED

Gourley Asks $1,000 Damages From the Company For Injuries He Sustained.

REPAIRS WERE BEING MADE

As Gourley Passed by a Timber Was Thrown and Hit Him on the Head

INFLICTING A PAINFUL WOUND

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A suit for $1,000 damages was filed here today by David Gourley against the East Liverpool Pottery company.

Gourley states that during October the defendant company was improving and repairing their pottery by removing and replacing the timbers and flooring of what is known as the glaze room which fronted on College street.

On October 13 Gourley was passing along the sidewalk when the employe of the defendant company, in willful disregard of the safety of those passing, threw a lot of material down upon the sidewalk. A large piece of timber struck the plaintiff on the head, rendering him unconscious and cutting a deep gash in his forehead near the right eye.

He claims he suffered intense pain in his head for several weeks and was compelled to incur great expense. His occupation had been that of a jiggerman and he was compelled to lose his labor by reason of his injuries. He claims he will be damaged for life.

RETAIL CLERKS

HELD A VERY PLEASANT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Four New Candidates Were Initiated And Officers Were Nominated.

The retail clerks' organization held a very interesting meeting in their hall last night, and although the friends expected from Beaver Falls did not arrive for some unexplained reason, a very pleasant time was spent.

Four candidates were initiated and the nomination of officers was opened. The election will be held in January.

No meeting will be held next month owing to the holiday trade demanding their entire attention.

Some 50 members were present and after the business of the meeting had been completed, dancing and other amusements were indulged in until a late hour.

Didn't Do Any Damage.

The city was visited by a heavy wind storm this morning, but there was very little damage done beyond a few signs being blown down and a few awnings being torn. The heavy rain which accompanied the wind was badly needed.

STORM DEALT DEATH.

Nineteen Persons Killed In the South.

THREE DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI.

Reports From Tunica County Said Three Negroes Were Killed — Their Bodies Carried Three Miles — Three Persons Dead at Lagrange, Tenn.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado bounding through a narrow stretch of territory, extending from a point three miles north of Lula, Miss., to Lagrange, Tenn., caused a heavy loss of life and property.

From meagre details obtainable, covering only three points, it appears that 19 lives were lost and the destruction of property was also heavy. It is believed that in the cyclones between the towns heard from numerous farm houses and and interior communities of more or less considerable population were struck, and these being cut off from the outside, were unable to give notice of their distress. Accompanying the tornado was a rainstorm of terrific proportions.

Lagrange, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado struck this town, causing much damage and killing three persons outright. The dead:

W. C. Moody.

Two negro women.

Injured:

Edward Smith, Southern railway agent, seriously.

The storm made its appearance shortly after midday and swept everything in its path. Eight residences and three churches were destroyed. The damage to cotton in the ball will be great.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado visited North Mississippi, causing loss of life and much property damage. Reports from Lulul, Tunica county, state that three negroes were killed, their bodies having been carried a distance of three miles by the wind. Many buildings were razed to the ground and the damage to crops cannot now be estimated.

EX-REBELS TO HELP.

General MacAbolus, With Natives, Supported by Americans, to Campaign Against Rebels.

Manila, Nov. 21.—General MacAbolus, the former Filipino chief, was prepared to start in pursuit of Aguinaldo with 100 picked natives, supported by American troops. Other ex-rebel Filipinos will be used in campaigning in the country. Their offers had not been formally made yet, but they were ready if the authorities would accept their services.

Aguinaldo, it was supposed, was in Northern Luzon, according to statements made by ex-rebel leaders in Manila, confirmed from other sources.

Aglypay, a renegade native priest, an insurgent leader in Northern Luzon, wrote to friends in Manila, asking for election news and requesting to be informed whether a decision has been reached concerning the relations between church and state and the disposition of church property.

The replies sent him contained the information that church and state will be separate and that entire religious freedom will be allowed.

BANK ROBBERS FAILED.

Unable to Get Safe Open—Citizens Held at Bay—Fired as They Fled. No One Hurt.

Delaware, O., Nov. 21.—A dozen professional bank robbers made a desperate attempt to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnstaff's deposit bank at Ashley, 10 miles north of here. While nine stood on guard, holding the citizens at bay, with their guns, three operated the dynamite under the deposit vault of the bank building. The bank's property is worth $50,000, and there was $15,000 in cash on hand. Attempts were made to get at the cash, but the side door held to its combination while the guards outside were shooting at the citizens, who pressed closely in upon them. Two merchants, first upon the scene, were met by the robbers at the point of guns and bade not to move. The robbers had stolen a horse and spring wagon and a black team and surrey from farmers nearby. The rigs were in front of the bank, ready for flight. The horses ran away, demolishing the vehicles, when the men took across the country on foot. The damage to the bank building, vault and other property is about one-half its value. The party left a Big Four train at Marengo, stole the horses and came to Ashley. They pried open the bank door without being discovered, but the first explosion of dynamite aroused the town. The robbers fired as they fled, but no one was hurt. The men were masked and have not been captured.

WELCOME FOR KRUGER.

He May Not Land at Marseilles Before Tomorrow—A Great Demonstration Arranged.

Marseilles, Nov. 21.—Former President Kruger will probably land here tomorrow, instead of today. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast or the gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid th cr ss seas. She may thus reach this point this evening. Every preparation, however, has been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing today. The police and military are held in readiness and the Boer reception committee has not made any change in the arrangements for the reception at the dock.

It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival here will be the occasion for a great popular demonstration along the route from the dock to the hotel, which is situated on the principal boulevard, known as the Cannebiere, but there will be nothing official about it.

A surprise came in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said, and came ahead on a French steamer. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy and still hoped it would lead to practical results favorable to the cause of his country.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

High Medical Practitioner Says It Has Taken an Unusually Favorable Course.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—A medical practitioner of high standing in the city, who is not connected with the state service, after analyzing the buns from Livadia, told the correspondent that the illness of the czar had taken an unusually favorable course.

"Apparently," he said, "there is more anxiety abroad than there is in Russia. This may be due largely to the statistics of typhoid mortality in this country. But these are misleading. The mortality with us is due to defective care. Russia has only one physician to every 50,000 inhabitants Furnish her with one to every 500, as in the United States, and the results, with equal care, would be as favorable here as anywhere else."

LOOKING UP BROWN'S SHORTAGE.

Experts Find $195,000 and Were Not Yet Through.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—The experts at work on the books of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., report that they have so far found a shortage of $195,000 in the books of Frank M. Brown, the missing cashier, and they are not yet through with their checking.

There have been all kinds of reports about Brown having been seen at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and other points since he left St. Louis last Wednesday, but none of these reports are believed here, and his whereabouts are as much a mystery as ever.

No reward has been offered for him, as the bank is in the hands of Receiver Tucker, and the officers and directors are without authority. As they are responsible for double the amount of their holdings of bank stock, they are not disposed to invest any more on account of Brown, even for his apprehension.

TAX ON TEA STAYS.

Will Remain Part of War Revenue.

IMPORT TARIFFS TO BE LET ALONE.

Republican Members of the House Ways and Means Consider Reduction—Revenues Could Be Reduced $30,000,000. Wilson Also Before Committee.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee met to consider a measure for the reduction of the war revenue tax. The most important action taken was a decision not to remove the tax of 10 cents a pound on tea. The committee will not take up or disturb the tariff on imports, as the members claim it would open up the whole subject of tariff revision.

The committee will not grant any hearings while framing the bill, as full hearings were given during the last session of congress, and since then briefs and statements of various interests have been received. Parties who are interested, however, can file briefs or statements with the committee.

Secretary Gage and Commissioner Wilson, of the internal revenue bureau, were before the committee for some time. The secretary told the committee that in his opinion there might be a reduction in revenues of $30,000,000. The war revenue act now raises about $100,000,000. Commissioner Wilson went over the schedules with the members of the committee, and both he and Secretary Gage were questioned as to where reduction could be made to the best advantage from the treasury viewpoint.

A considerable part of the discussion was confined to schedule B, which taxes medical and proprietary articles and preparations, perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, wines, etc. There was also discussion of stamp taxes.

The discussion indicated that the committee favored quite a change in this feature of the law and reductions wherever possible. The committee also desires to eliminate the taxes on conveyances, of which there has been a great deal of complaint.

It can be stated that in a general way it will be the aim of the committee to abolish the most burdensome taxes and to grant relief from stamp taxes as far as possible.

The committee, late in the day, called on the president to obtain his views on the proposed reduction. Today the committee is to meet again.

After there has been a general interchange of opinion on the proposed reduction, it is quite likely that a sub-committee will be appointed to draft a measure.

It is not believed the bill can be prepared and ready for the full committee until the session begins. The measure, after it is agreed upon by the Republicans, will be submitted to the Democrats of the committee.

Suggestion has been made that the oleomargarine bill now on the house calendar, and made a special order for Dec. 6, might be made a part of the war revenue reduction bill. Representative Tawney, the father of the oleomargarine bill, when asked about this, said that the oleomargarine bill would be passed by the house early in the session, so that an opportunity would be given to ascertain if there was a disposition to defeat the measure in the senate by any unusual delay. In such case he intimated that the oleomargarine bill might be made a part of the revenue reduction bill in the senate.

GAINED IN STRENGTH.

Favorable Symptoms In Senator Davis' Condition — Able to Assimilate Nourishment.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—The condition of United States Senator Davis was reported unchanged. Previously at Senator Davis' house it was stated that the physicians had reported their patient as being stronger than for two days before. The delirium, it was understood, continues and this is the worst symptom. The respiration was eight above normal and the temperature slightly higher than the day before. The pulse was exactly as it was the day before. Food and a tonic were taken in the usual quantities and digested without discomfort. This ability of the stomach to receive and of the system to assimilate nourishment is the one factor upon which the sick statesman must rely in his prolonged fight with disease. While at times his friends are encouraged to believe that with the help of nature he has conquered the destructive agency of his blood, a little later they are compelled to believe that Senator Davis is fighting a battle which he cannot win.

The symptoms were slightly encouraging because of the patient's perceptible gain in strength.

GREETING FROM M'KINLEY.

Sent a Message to Pennsylvania Endeavor Convention—Fine Growth of the Society.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union last night appropriately opened its fourteenth annual convention. There were delegates present from all parts of the state.

At the Baptist temple Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, delivered the address of welcome, which wae responded to by Bishop C. L. Moench, of Lititz.

State Secretary George McDonald's annual report was mainly statistical. Among other things he said:

"Tonight I am glad to say that we have enrolled 11 senior, 12 mothers, 3,179 young people's, 137 intermediate and 1,385 junior societies, a total of 4,724, with a membership of 245,648. This, you will notice, is a net increase of 20 societies for the year, and demonstrates the permanency of this movement in our state."

Treasurer J. Henry Stauff's report showed total receipts of $2,143 and expenditures of $1,280.23.

State President Eberman's annual dress was then read, of which he reviewed the past work of the state union, and said that reports from county and local unions, as well as from individual societies, reveal an encouraging and hopeful condition.

The meeting in the Second regiment armory was attended by an audience of nearly 5,000 people, in addition to the chorus choir of 800. Rev. Marion J. Kline, presiding officer of the meeting, read a letter from President McKinley, containing the following:

"Please extend my cordial greetings to the members of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union assembled in convention in Philadelphia, and my wish that their efforts may accomplish much for the noble work in which they are engaged."

Following the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Rev. C. W. Bickley, Rev. William Patterson made a short address welcoming the delegates to Philadelphia, to which Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, responded.

The rest of the programme consisted of the address of State President Eberman, reports of the secretary and treasurer and a prayer service led by Rev. W. R. Laird, of West Chester.

CHURCH NEARLY COMPLETE.

Fine Catholic Structure Almost Finished at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 21.—St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, at Thirty-seventh and Bank streets, is now rapidly nearing completion, having been in course of erection since July 1, 1899. It will be one of the largest and handsomest structures in Western Pennsylvania, and will represent an expenditure of $200,000 when completed. The ground upon which it is built was purchased at a cost of $50,000 and extends from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets, along Bank street, at the side of the monastery of the Capuchin Fathers, which order has had charge of the church since 1873.

A gift of $100,000 from the late A. Frauenheim made the building of the new edifice possible.

Aglypay, a renegade native priest, an insurgent leader in Northern Luzon, wrote to friends in Manila, asking for election news and requesting to be informed whether a decision has been reached concerning the relations between church and state and the disposition of church property.

The replies sent him contained the information that church and state will be separate and that entire religious freedom will be allowed.

BANK ROBBERS FAILED.

Unable to Get Safe Open—Citizens Held at Bay—Fired as They Fled. No One Hurt.

Delaware, O., Nov. 21.—A dozen professional bank robbers made a desperate attempt to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnstaff's deposit bank at Ashley, 10 miles north of here. While nine stood on guard, holding the citizens at bay, with their guns, three operated the dynamite under the deposit vault of the bank building. The bank's property is worth $50,000, and there was $15,000 in cash on hand. Attempts were made to get at the cash, but the side door held to its combination while the guards outside were shooting at the citizens, who pressed closely in upon them. Two merchants, first upon the scene, were met by the robbers at the point of guns and bade not to move. The robbers had stolen a horse and spring wagon and a black team and surrey from farmers nearby. The rigs were in front of the bank, ready for flight. The horses ran away, demolishing the vehicles, when the men took across the country on foot. The damage to the bank building, vault and other property is about one-half its value. The party left a Big Four train at Marengo, stole the horses and came to Ashley. They pried open the bank door without being discovered, but the first explosion of dynamite aroused the town. The robbers fired as they fled, but no one was hurt. The men were masked and have not been captured.

WELCOME FOR KRUGER.

He May Not Land at Marseilles Before Tomorrow—A Great Demonstration Arranged.

Marseilles, Nov. 21.—Former President Kruger will probably land here tomorrow, instead of today. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast or the gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid th cr ss seas. She may thus reach this point this evening. Every preparation, however, has been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing today. The police and military are held in readiness and the Boer reception committee has not made any change in the arrangements for the reception at the dock.

It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival here will be the occasion for a great popular demonstration along the route from the dock to the hotel, which is situated on the principal boulevard, known as the Cannebiere, but there will be nothing official about it.

A surprise came in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said, and came ahead on a French steamer. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy and still hoped it would lead to practical results favorable to the cause of his country.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

High Medical Practitioner Says It Has Taken an Unusually Favorable Course.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—A medical practitioner of high standing in the city, who is not connected with the state service, after analyzing the buns from Livadia, told the correspondent that the illness of the czar had taken an unusually favorable course.

"Apparently," he said, "there is more anxiety abroad than there is in Russia. This may be due largely to the statistics of typhoid mortality in this country. But these are misleading. The mortality with us is due to defective care. Russia has only one physician to every 50,000 inhabitants Furnish her with one to every 500, as in the United States, and the results, with equal care, would be as favorable here as anywhere else."

LOOKING UP BROWN'S SHORTAGE.

Experts Find $195,000 and Were Not Yet Through.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—The experts at work on the books of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., report that they have so far found a shortage of $195,000 in the books of Frank M. Brown, the missing cashier, and they are not yet through with their checking.

There have been all kinds of reports about Brown having been seen at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and other points since he left St. Louis last Wednesday, but none of these reports are believed here, and his whereabouts are as much a mystery as ever.

No reward has been offered for him, as the bank is in the hands of Receiver Tucker, and the officers and directors are without authority. As they are responsible for double the amount of their holdings of bank stock, they are not disposed to invest any more on account of Brown, even for his apprehension.

TAX ON TEA STAYS.

Will Remain Part of War Revenue.

IMPORT TARIFFS TO BE LET ALONE.

Republican Members of the House Ways and Means Consider Reduction—Revenues Could Be Reduced $30,000,000. Wilson Also Before Committee.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee met to consider a measure for the reduction of the war revenue tax. The most important action taken was a decision not to remove the tax of 10 cents a pound on tea. The committee will not take up or disturb the tariff on imports, as the members claim it would open up the whole subject of tariff revision.

The committee will not grant any hearings while framing the bill, as full hearings were given during the last session of congress, and since then briefs and statements of various interests have been received. Parties who are interested, however, can file briefs or statements with the committee.

Secretary Gage and Commissioner Wilson, of the internal revenue bureau, were before the committee for some time. The secretary told the committee that in his opinion there might be a reduction in revenues of $30,000,000. The war revenue act now raises about $100,000,000. Commissioner Wilson went over the schedules with the members of the committee, and both he and Secretary Gage were questioned as to where reduction could be made to the best advantage from the treasury viewpoint.

A considerable part of the discussion was confined to schedule B, which taxes medical and proprietary articles and preparations, perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, wines, etc. There was also discussion of stamp taxes.

The discussion indicated that the committee favored quite a change in this feature of the law and reductions wherever possible. The committee also desires to eliminate the taxes on conveyances, of which there has been a great deal of complaint.

It can be stated that in a general way it will be the aim of the committee to abolish the most burdensome taxes and to grant relief from stamp taxes as far as possible.

The committee, late in the day, called on the president to obtain his views on the proposed reduction. Today the committee is to meet again.

After there has been a general interchange of opinion on the proposed reduction, it is quite likely that a sub-committee will be appointed to draft a measure.

It is not believed the bill can be prepared and ready for the full committee until the session begins. The measure, after it is agreed upon by the Republicans, will be submitted to the Democrats of the committee.

Suggestion has been made that the oleomargarine bill now on the house calendar, and made a special order for Dec. 6, might be made a part of the war revenue reduction bill. Representative Tawney, the father of the oleomargarine bill, when asked about this, said that the oleomargarine bill would be passed by the house early in the session, so that an opportunity would be given to ascertain if there was a disposition to defeat the measure in the senate by any unusual delay. In such case he intimated that the oleomargarine bill might be made a part of the revenue reduction bill in the senate.

GAINED IN STRENGTH.

Favorable Symptoms In Senator Davis' Condition — Able to Assimilate Nourishment.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—The condition of United States Senator Davis was reported unchanged. Previously at Senator Davis' house it was stated that the physicians had reported their patient as being stronger than for two days before. The delirium, it was understood, continues and this is the worst symptom. The respiration was eight above normal and the temperature slightly higher than the day before. The pulse was exactly as it was the day before. Food and a tonic were taken in the usual quantities and digested without discomfort. This ability of the stomach to receive and of the system to assimilate nourishment is the one factor upon which the sick statesman must rely in his prolonged fight with disease. While at times his friends are encouraged to believe that with the help of nature he has conquered the destructive agency of his blood, a little later they are compelled to believe that Senator Davis is fighting a battle which he cannot win.

The symptoms were slightly encouraging because of the patient's perceptible gain in strength.

GREETING FROM M'KINLEY.

Sent a Message to Pennsylvania Endeavor Convention—Fine Growth of the Society.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union last night appropriately opened its fourteenth annual convention. There were delegates present from all parts of the state.

At the Baptist temple Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, delivered the address of welcome, which wae responded to by Bishop C. L. Moench, of Lititz.

State Secretary George McDonald's annual report was mainly statistical. Among other things he said:

"Tonight I am glad to say that we have enrolled 11 senior, 12 mothers, 3,179 young people's, 137 intermediate and 1,385 junior societies, a total of 4,724, with a membership of 245,648. This, you will notice, is a net increase of 20 societies for the year, and demonstrates the permanency of this movement in our state."

Treasurer J. Henry Stauff's report showed total receipts of $2,143 and expenditures of $1,280.23.

State President Eberman's annual dress was then read, of which he reviewed the past work of the state union, and said that reports from county and local unions, as well as from individual societies, reveal an encouraging and hopeful condition.

The meeting in the Second regiment armory was attended by an audience of nearly 5,000 people, in addition to the chorus choir of 800. Rev. Marion J. Kline, presiding officer of the meeting, read a letter from President McKinley, containing the following:

"Please extend my cordial greetings to the members of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union assembled in convention in Philadelphia, and my wish that their efforts may accomplish much for the noble work in which they are engaged."

Following the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Rev. C. W. Bickley, Rev. William Patterson made a short address welcoming the delegates to Philadelphia, to which Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, responded.

The rest of the programme consisted of the address of State President Eberman, reports of the secretary and treasurer and a prayer service led by Rev. W. R. Laird, of West Chester.

CHURCH NEARLY COMPLETE.

Fine Catholic Structure Almost Finished at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 21.—St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, at Thirty-seventh and Bank streets, is now rapidly nearing completion, having been in course of erection since July 1, 1899. It will be one of the largest and handsomest structures in Western Pennsylvania, and will represent an expenditure of $200,000 when completed. The ground upon which it is built was purchased at a cost of $50,000 and extends from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets, along Bank street, at the side of the monastery of the Capuchin Fathers, which order has had charge of the church since 1873.

A gift of $100,000 from the late A. Frauenheim made the building of the new edifice possible.

STORM DEALT DEATH.

Nineteen Persons Killed In the South.

THREE DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI.

Reports From Tunica County Said Three Negroes Were Killed — Their Bodies Carried Three Miles — Three Persons Dead at Lagrange, Tenn.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado bounding through a narrow stretch of territory, extending from a point three miles north of Lula, Miss., to Lagrange, Tenn., caused a heavy loss of life and property.

From meagre details obtainable, covering only three points, it appears that 19 lives were lost and the destruction of property was also heavy. It is believed that in the cyclones between the towns heard from numerous farm houses and and interior communities of more or less considerable population were struck, and these being cut off from the outside, were unable to give notice of their distress. Accompanying the tornado was a rainstorm of terrific proportions.

Lagrange, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado struck this town, causing much damage and killing three persons outright. The dead:

W. C. Moody.

Two negro women.

Injured:

Edward Smith, Southern railway agent, seriously.

The storm made its appearance shortly after midday and swept everything in its path. Eight residences and three churches were destroyed. The damage to cotton in the ball will be great.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado visited North Mississippi, causing loss of life and much property damage. Reports from Lulul, Tunica county, state that three negroes were killed, their bodies having been carried a distance of three miles by the wind. Many buildings were razed to the ground and the damage to crops cannot now be estimated.

EX-REBELS TO HELP.

General MacAbolus, With Natives, Supported by Americans, to Campaign Against Rebels.

Manila, Nov. 21.—General MacAbolus, the former Filipino chief, was prepared to start in pursuit of Aguinaldo with 100 picked natives, supported by American troops. Other ex-rebel Filipinos will be used in campaigning in the country. Their offers had not been formally made yet, but they were ready if the authorities would accept their services.

Aguinaldo, it was supposed, was in Northern Luzon, according to statements made by ex-rebel leaders in Manila, confirmed from other sources.

Aglypay, a renegade native priest, an insurgent leader in Northern Luzon, wrote to friends in Manila, asking for election news and requesting to be informed whether a decision has been reached concerning the relations between church and state and the disposition of church property.

The replies sent him contained the information that church and state will be separate and that entire religious freedom will be allowed.

BANK ROBBERS FAILED.

Unable to Get Safe Open—Citizens Held at Bay—Fired as They Fled. No One Hurt.

Delaware, O., Nov. 21.—A dozen professional bank robbers made a desperate attempt to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnstaff's deposit bank at Ashley, 10 miles north of here. While nine stood on guard, holding the citizens at bay, with their guns, three operated the dynamite under the deposit vault of the bank building. The bank's property is worth $50,000, and there was $15,000 in cash on hand. Attempts were made to get at the cash, but the side door held to its combination while the guards outside were shooting at the citizens, who pressed closely in upon them. Two merchants, first upon the scene, were met by the robbers at the point of guns and bade not to move. The robbers had stolen a horse and spring wagon and a black team and surrey from farmers nearby. The rigs were in front of the bank, ready for flight. The horses ran away, demolishing the vehicles, when the men took across the country on foot. The damage to the bank building, vault and other property is about one-half its value. The party left a Big Four train at Marengo, stole the horses and came to Ashley. They pried open the bank door without being discovered, but the first explosion of dynamite aroused the town. The robbers fired as they fled, but no one was hurt. The men were masked and have not been captured.

WELCOME FOR KRUGER.

He May Not Land at Marseilles Before Tomorrow—A Great Demonstration Arranged.

Marseilles, Nov. 21.—Former President Kruger will probably land here tomorrow, instead of today. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast or the gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid th cr ss seas. She may thus reach this point this evening. Every preparation, however, has been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing today. The police and military are held in readiness and the Boer reception committee has not made any change in the arrangements for the reception at the dock.

It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival here will be the occasion for a great popular demonstration along the route from the dock to the hotel, which is situated on the principal boulevard, known as the Cannebiere, but there will be nothing official about it.

A surprise came in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said, and came ahead on a French steamer. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy and still hoped it would lead to practical results favorable to the cause of his country.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

High Medical Practitioner Says It Has Taken an Unusually Favorable Course.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—A medical practitioner of high standing in the city, who is not connected with the state service, after analyzing the buns from Livadia, told the correspondent that the illness of the czar had taken an unusually favorable course.

"Apparently," he said, "there is more anxiety abroad than there is in Russia. This may be due largely to the statistics of typhoid mortality in this country. But these are misleading. The mortality with us is due to defective care. Russia has only one physician to every 50,000 inhabitants Furnish her with one to every 500, as in the United States, and the results, with equal care, would be as favorable here as anywhere else."

LOOKING UP BROWN'S SHORTAGE.

Experts Find $195,000 and Were Not Yet Through.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—The experts at work on the books of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., report that they have so far found a shortage of $195,000 in the books of Frank M. Brown, the missing cashier, and they are not yet through with their checking.

There have been all kinds of reports about Brown having been seen at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and other points since he left St. Louis last Wednesday, but none of these reports are believed here, and his whereabouts are as much a mystery as ever.

No reward has been offered for him, as the bank is in the hands of Receiver Tucker, and the officers and directors are without authority. As they are responsible for double the amount of their holdings of bank stock, they are not disposed to invest any more on account of Brown, even for his apprehension.

Will Remain Part of War Revenue.

IMPORT TARIFFS TO BE LET ALONE.

Republican Members of the House Ways and Means Consider Reduction—Revenues Could Be Reduced $30,000,000. Wilson Also Before Committee.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee met to consider a measure for the reduction of the war revenue tax. The most important action taken was a decision not to remove the tax of 10 cents a pound on tea. The committee will not take up or disturb the tariff on imports, as the members claim it would open up the whole subject of tariff revision.

The committee will not grant any hearings while framing the bill, as full hearings were given during the last session of congress, and since then briefs and statements of various interests have been received. Parties who are interested, however, can file briefs or statements with the committee.

Secretary Gage and Commissioner Wilson, of the internal revenue bureau, were before the committee for some time. The secretary told the committee that in his opinion there might be a reduction in revenues of $30,000,000. The war revenue act now raises about $100,000,000. Commissioner Wilson went over the schedules with the members of the committee, and both he and Secretary Gage were questioned as to where reduction could be made to the best advantage from the treasury viewpoint.

A considerable part of the discussion was confined to schedule B, which taxes medical and proprietary articles and preparations, perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, wines, etc. There was also discussion of stamp taxes.

The discussion indicated that the committee favored quite a change in this feature of the law and reductions wherever possible. The committee also desires to eliminate the taxes on conveyances, of which there has been a great deal of complaint.

It can be stated, that in a general way it will be the aim of the committee to abolish the most burdensome taxes and to grant relief from stamp taxes as far as possible.

The committee, late in the day, called on the president to obtain his views on the proposed reduction. Today the committee is to meet again.

After there has been a general interchange of opinion on the proposed reduction, it is quite likely that a sub-committee will be appointed to draft a measure.

It is not believed the bill can be prepared and ready for the full committee until the session begins. The measure, after it is agreed upon by the Republicans, will be submitted to the Democrats of the committee.

Suggestion has been made that the oleomargarine bill now on the house calendar, and made a special order for Dec. 6, might be made a part of the war revenue reduction bill. Representative Tawney, the father of the oleomargarine bill, when asked about this, said that the oleomargarine bill would be passed by the house early in the session, so that an opportunity would be given to ascertain if there was a disposition to defeat the measure in the senate by any unusual delay. In such case he intimated that the oleomargarine bill might be made a part of the revenue reduction bill in the senate.

GAINED IN STRENGTH.

Favorable Symptoms In Senator Davis' Condition — Able to Assimilate Nourishment.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—The condition of United States Senator Davis was reported unchanged. Previously at Senator Davis' house it was stated that the physicians had reported their patient as being stronger than for two days before. The delirium, it was understood, continues and this is the worst symptom. The respiration was eight above normal and the temperature slightly higher than the day before. The pulse was exactly as it was the day before. Food and a tonic were taken in the usual quantities and digested without discomfort. This ability of the stomach to receive and of the system to assimilate nourishment is the one factor upon which the sick statesman must rely in his prolonged fight with disease. While at times his friends are encouraged to believe that with the help of nature he has conquered the destructive agency of his blood, a little later they are compelled to believe that Senator Davis is fighting a battle which he cannot win.

The symptoms were slightly encouraging because of the patient's perceptible gain in strength.

GREETING FROM M'KINLEY.

Sent a Message to Pennsylvania Endeavor Convention—Fine Growth of the Society.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union last night appropriately opened its fourteenth annual convention. There were delegates present from all parts of the state.

At the Baptist temple Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, delivered the address of welcome, which wae responded to by Bishop C. L. Moench, of Lititz.

State Secretary George McDonald's annual report was mainly statistical. Among other things he said:

"Tonight I am glad to say that we have enrolled 11 senior, 12 mothers, 3,179 young people's, 137 intermediate and 1,385 junior societies, a total of 4,724, with a membership of 245,648. This, you will notice, is a net increase of 20 societies for the year, and demonstrates the permanency of this movement in our state."

Treasurer J. Henry Stauff's report showed total receipts of $2,143 and expenditures of $1,280.23.

State President Eberman's annual dress was then read, of which he reviewed the past work of the state union, and said that reports from county and local unions, as well as from individual societies, reveal an encouraging and hopeful condition.

The meeting in the Second regiment armory was attended by an audience of nearly 5,000 people, in addition to the chorus choir of 800. Rev. Marion J. Kline, presiding officer of the meeting, read a letter from President McKinley, containing the following:

"Please extend my cordial greetings to the members of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union assembled in convention in Philadelphia, and my wish that their efforts may accomplish much for the noble work in which they are engaged."

Following the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Rev. C. W. Bickley, Rev. William Patterson made a short address welcoming the delegates to Philadelphia, to which Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, responded.

The rest of the programme consisted of the address of State President Eberman, reports of the secretary and treasurer and a prayer service led by Rev. W. R. Laird, of West Chester.

CHURCH NEARLY COMPLETE.

Fine Catholic Structure Almost Finished at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 21.—St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, at Thirty-seventh and Bank streets, is now rapidly nearing completion, having been in course of erection since July 1, 1899. It will be one of the largest and handsomest structures in Western Pennsylvania, and will represent an expenditure of $200,000 when completed. The ground upon which it is built was purchased at a cost of $50,000 and extends from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets, along Bank street, at the side of the monastery of the Capuchin Fathers, which order has had charge of the church since 1873.

A gift of $100,000 from the late A. Frauenheim made the building of the new edifice possible.

A CRISIS IN CHINA.

Allies Resolve Upon Stronger Measures.

EMPRESS COMMANDS RESISTANCE

Said to Have Warned Governors and Viceroys to Prepare For Struggle—The Viceroy of Nankin Questioned as to His Attitude, by Allies.

London, Nov. 21.—"At last," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, "the allies in Pekin have resolved upon stronger measures to bring maters to a crisis. They have asked the viceroy of Nankin to state definitely his position toward the Chinese court and the question of forwarding supplies."

"It is credibly reported," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, "that the empress dowager has telegraphed a secret decree warning all governors and viceroys to prepare for immediate war against the allies everywhere."

AMERICA WON'T BE OUSTED.

Proposes to Keep Some Troops In China, Until Our Interests Are Conserved.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Chinese situation was the main topic under consideration at the cabinet meeting. The administration is not disposed to join with the other governments in making demands upon the Chinese imperial authorities which the Chinese government cannot comply with.

So far as our government is advised, the foreign ministers at Pekin have not yet agreed upon all points under such proposals as look to the prevention of the partition of China and the guarantee of the "open door" to all comers, yet it begins to appear from the course of the negotiations that either these promises were not sincere in all cases, or that some of the makers, honestly have changed their minds as to what shall be done for the present in China.

It may be stated, however, that the United States government does not propose to be driven out of the concert relative to China at this juncture in the negotiations.

All our troops will not be withdrawn until all proper interests of the United States in China have been conserved.

DEFENDS MISSIONARIES.

Wu Ting Fang Declared They Were Not to Blame For the Trouble In China.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, who arrived here from Washington, delivered an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He said in part:

Mr. Wu, in the course of his remarks, said the cause of the anti-foreign feeling in China is commonly supposed to be due entirely to the missionaries. This charge, he said, is unfair, for the missionaries, while in cases they have been indiscreet, have done much good in China. The general attitude of foreigners, he said, has had much to do with their unpopularity. They frequently treat the customs, traditions and institutions of the country with contemp, and in this way excite ill feeling. While some foreigners treat the Chinese with every consideration, unfortunately the mischief done by others counterbalances the favorable impression.

Heroic Missionaries Going Back.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The steamship China, which sails for the Orient, will take back the first missionaries that have ventured into China since the Boxer outbreak. Among those who will depart are Rev. Dr. Trowick and his bride. The former is from Nashville and the latter from Louisville. They go to Shanghai.

Lieutenant Haeseler was eminent as an electrician, and was an expert in the application of compressed air in mechanics. In the battle off Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of Cevera's fleet, Lieutenant Haeseler was in charge of the starboard turret of the battleship Texas, and earned high praise for the way in which his guns were served.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Fury of a Shot Ignited Gas—One Man Killed and Four Injured.

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 21.—A frightful explosion of gas occurred in the Ellsworth No. 1 mine, near this place.

The dead:

Cyrus Lear, a machine boss and a native of England; skull fractured and badly burned about the body; died at the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg.

The injured:

John Kervitch, an Austrian, aged 30 years; burned about the head and body.

George Morav, an Austrian, aged 28 years; burned about the body and right arm and leg broken.

John Steice, aged 35 years; cut and bruised and injured internally.

Emilio Assissi, an Austrian, several bones broken and cut about the head and limbs.

The explosion was caused by the firing of a shot, which ignited the gas. It is a mystery how so much gas came to be in the mine wihtout the knowledge of the miners, and a thorough investigation will be made at once.

Large Sales In Northern Pacific—Movements In Iron and Steel Irregular.

New York, Nov. 21.—The sales of Northern Pacific on Tuesday foot up, according to the customary approximate calculations, 201,800 shares for the common stock and 75,600 shares for the preferred stocks, a total of 277,400 shares. The common stock rose an extreme 6¼ and the preferred 6⅛. Various causes doubtless served to congest the speculation in these stocks. For one reason, there was but languid interest in the general market and the eager army of operators and speculators who are watching for available openings failed to find any until the movement in Northern Pacific developed. The volume and character of the dealings in the stocks, however, precluded the idea of a purely speculative operation.

The movement in the iron and steel stocks was exceedingly irregular, and a number of other specialties which have had recent notable advances hung back Tuesday. As a consequence, the day's net changes were exceedingly uneven, and not a few declines were mixed in with the notable gains. The conspicuously strong stocks, besides the Northern Pacifics, were the Union Pacifics, Great Northern preferred, the Atchisons, Missouri Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grandes and the Baltimore and Ohios. Among the industrials and specialties the Steel and Wire stocks, Federal Steel, the Tobaccos, People's Gas, Sugar, North American and International Power were conspicuous. After a sharp reaction on profit taking the Northern Pacifics rallied, carrying the whole market with them, and the closing was very animated and buoyant at about the top level.

IN SPITE OF THE PROTEST.

A British Ship Seized by Colombia to Transport Troops, Etc.

Panama, Nov. 21.—The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian government was due to the fact that the agent of the Pacific Steam Navigation company, to which she belonged, refused to sell or charter the vessel for the purpose of conveying government troops to Buenaventura, which was besieged by the Liberals.

The British consul here, C. Mallet, entered a strong protest against the seizure, but it was of no avail. He then communicated with his government on the subject. No reply has yet been received from London. The Taboga, with the government troops, etc., on board, arrived at Buenaventura, whereupon the Liberals retired.

Rev. Stuart Admitted to Bail.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—Rev. Stuart waived a hearing before Squire Hess, of Wyoming, on a charge of abortion, alleged to have been committed on his wife, now dead, and was sent to jail. Afterwards the squire admitted Stuart to $1,500 bail for a hearing today, as counsel claimed the offense was a mere misdemeanor and was bailable. It is said a charge of murder will be preferred later on.

A French Joke.

Two tramps on the banks of the Seine:

"How can we raise the wind?"

"I have it. You throw yourself in, and I'll jump in after you and take you out. Then I'll get the reward from the Humane society."

"Good! Here goes!" He jumped into the water, and after floundering about for some time he was getting tired out. "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain sitting there? Why don't you come in and take me out?"

"Because I think I might make more out of you in the morgue."—Paris Journal.

Corrected.

"In your first edition," said the judge's henchman, "you say, 'Judge Booz, throughout yesterday's session of court, was as drunk as it was possible for him to be.' He was sober, and I want you to correct it."

"All right," replied the editor of The Evening Wasp. "We'll change it in our next edition. You're welcome! Good day, sir. (Pause.) Mr. Copikutter, strike out 'drunk' and insert 'sober' in that paragraph."—Philadelphia Press.

THE MINGO STRIKE SETTLED.

Wages Adjusted—Mills to Resume Maybe Tomorrow or Friday.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—At a conference last evening at the Mingo Junction office of the National Steel company, between District Monager A. B. Carter, of Wheeling, representing the company, and Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburg, representing the Amalgamated association, the differences existing in regard to the wage scale at that plant were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The company, it will be remembered, proposed a reduction of 33 per cent recently, which the men declined. The settlement provides for a reduction of 25 per cent, and the mills will resume tomorrow or Friday. The change in wages is really not a reduction, as the modern reconstruction of the mills has largely increased the output.

A CRISIS IN CHINA.

Allies Resolve Upon Stronger Measures.

EMPRESS COMMANDS RESISTANCE

Said to Have Warned Governors and Viceroys to Prepare For Struggle—The Viceroy of Nankin Questioned as to His Attitude, by Allies.

London, Nov. 21.—"At last," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, "the allies in Pekin have resolved upon stronger measures to bring maters to a crisis. They have asked the viceroy of Nankin to state definitely his position toward the Chinese court and the question of forwarding supplies."

"It is credibly reported," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, "that the empress dowager has telegraphed a secret decree warning all governors and viceroys to prepare for immediate war against the allies everywhere."

AMERICA WON'T BE OUSTED.

Proposes to Keep Some Troops In China, Until Our Interests Are Conserved.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Chinese situation was the main topic under consideration at the cabinet meeting. The administration is not disposed to join with the other governments in making demands upon the Chinese imperial authorities which the Chinese government cannot comply with.

So far as our government is advised, the foreign ministers at Pekin have not yet agreed upon all points under such proposals as look to the prevention of the partition of China and the guarantee of the "open door" to all comers, yet it begins to appear from the course of the negotiations that either these promises were not sincere in all cases, or that some of the makers, honestly have changed their minds as to what shall be done for the present in China.

It may be stated, however, that the United States government does not propose to be driven out of the concert relative to China at this juncture in the negotiations.

All our troops will not be withdrawn until all proper interests of the United States in China have been conserved.

DEFENDS MISSIONARIES.

Wu Ting Fang Declared They Were Not to Blame For the Trouble In China.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, who arrived here from Washington, delivered an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He said in part:

Mr. Wu, in the course of his remarks, said the cause of the anti-foreign feeling in China is commonly supposed to be due entirely to the missionaries. This charge, he said, is unfair, for the missionaries, while in cases they have been indiscreet, have done much good in China. The general attitude of foreigners, he said, has had much to do with their unpopularity. They frequently treat the customs, traditions and institutions of the country with contemp, and in this way excite ill feeling. While some foreigners treat the Chinese with every consideration, unfortunately the mischief done by others counterbalances the favorable impression.

Heroic Missionaries Going Back.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The steamship China, which sails for the Orient, will take back the first missionaries that have ventured into China since the Boxer outbreak. Among those who will depart are Rev. Dr. Trowick and his bride. The former is from Nashville and the latter from Louisville. They go to Shanghai.

Haeseler Died of Typhoid.

New York, Nov. 21.—Lieutenant Francis Joy Haeseler, U. S. A., died at the naval hospital here of typhoid fever. Lieutenant Haeseler was eminent as an electrician, and was an expert in the application of compressed air in mechanics. In the battle off Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of Cevera's fleet, Lieutenant Haeseler was in charge of the starboard turret of the battleship Texas, and earned high praise for the way in which his guns were served.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Fury of a Shot Ignited Gas—One Man Killed and Four Injured.

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 21.—A frightful explosion of gas occurred in the Ellsworth No. 1 mine, near this place.

The dead:

Cyrus Lear, a machine boss and a native of England; skull fractured and badly burned about the body; died at the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg.

The injured:

John Kervitch, an Austrian, aged 30 years; burned about the head and body.

George Morav, an Austrian, aged 28 years; burned about the body and right arm and leg broken.

John Steice, aged 35 years; cut and bruised and injured internally.

Emilio Assissi, an Austrian, several bones broken and cut about the head and limbs.

The explosion was caused by the firing of a shot, which ignited the gas. It is a mystery how so much gas came to be in the mine wihtout the knowledge of the miners, and a thorough investigation will be made at once.

To Increase Number of Congressmen.

Sweigard, former superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, who is charged by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with having discharged employes of the Reading company because they were members of the Brotherhood.

Large Sales In Northern Pacific—Movements In Iron and Steel Irregular.

New York, Nov. 21.—The sales of Northern Pacific on Tuesday foot up, according to the customary approximate calculations, 201,800 shares for the common stock and 75,600 shares for the preferred stocks, a total of 277,400 shares. The common stock rose an extreme 6¼ and the preferred 6⅛. Various causes doubtless served to congest the speculation in these stocks. For one reason, there was but languid interest in the general market and the eager army of operators and speculators who are watching for available openings failed to find any until the movement in Northern Pacific developed. The volume and character of the dealings in the stocks, however, precluded the idea of a purely speculative operation.

The movement in the iron and steel stocks was exceedingly irregular, and a number of other specialties which have had recent notable advances hung back Tuesday. As a consequence, the day's net changes were exceedingly uneven, and not a few declines were mixed in with the notable gains. The conspicuously strong stocks, besides the Northern Pacifics, were the Union Pacifics, Great Northern preferred, the Atchisons, Missouri Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grandes and the Baltimore and Ohios. Among the industrials and specialties the Steel and Wire stocks, Federal Steel, the Tobaccos, People's Gas, Sugar, North American and International Power were conspicuous. After a sharp reaction on profit taking the Northern Pacifics rallied, carrying the whole market with them, and the closing was very animated and buoyant at about the top level.

IN SPITE OF THE PROTEST.

A British Ship Seized by Colombia to Transport Troops, Etc.

Panama, Nov. 21.—The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian government was due to the fact that the agent of the Pacific Steam Navigation company, to which she belonged, refused to sell or charter the vessel for the purpose of conveying government troops to Buenaventura, which was besieged by the Liberals.

The British consul here, C. Mallet, entered a strong protest against the seizure, but it was of no avail. He then communicated with his government on the subject. No reply has yet been received from London. The Taboga, with the government troops, etc., on board, arrived at Buenaventura, whereupon the Liberals retired.

Rev. Stuart Admitted to Bail.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—Rev. Stuart waived a hearing before Squire Hess, of Wyoming, on a charge of abortion, alleged to have been committed on his wife, now dead, and was sent to jail. Afterwards the squire admitted Stuart to $1,500 bail for a hearing today, as counsel claimed the offense was a mere misdemeanor and was bailable. It is said a charge of murder will be preferred later on.

To Honor Liscum's Memory.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 21.—The house of representatives adopted a joint resolution authorizing the governor to have painted a portrait of General E. H. Liscum, a native of Vermont, who was killed in China. The portrait is to be placed in the state house.

A French Joke.

Two tramps on the banks of the Seine:

"How can we raise the wind?"

"I have it. You throw yourself in, and I'll jump in after you and take you out. Then I'll get the reward from the Humane society."

"Good! Here goes!" He jumped into the water, and after floundering about for some time he was getting tired out. "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain sitting there? Why don't you come in and take me out?"

"Because I think I might make more out of you in the morgue."—Paris Journal.

Corrected.

"In your first edition," said the judge's henchman, "you say, 'Judge Booz, throughout yesterday's session of court, was as drunk as it was possible for him to be.' He was sober, and I want you to correct it."

"All right," replied the editor of The Evening Wasp. "We'll change it in our next edition. You're welcome! Good day, sir. (Pause.) Mr. Copikutter, strike out 'drunk' and insert 'sober' in that paragraph."—Philadelphia Press.

THE MINGO STRIKE SETTLED.

Wages Adjusted—Mills to Resume Maybe Tomorrow or Friday.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—At a conference last evening at the Mingo Junction office of the National Steel company, between District Monager A. B. Carter, of Wheeling, representing the company, and Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburg, representing the Amalgamated association, the differences existing in regard to the wage scale at that plant were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The company, it will be remembered, proposed a reduction of 33 per cent recently, which the men declined. The settlement provides for a reduction of 25 per cent, and the mills will resume tomorrow or Friday. The change in wages is really not a reduction, as the modern reconstruction of the mills has largely increased the output.

Died at Age of 103.

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Michael Carney, who claimed to be 103 years old, died here. He claimed he was born in Westport, Ireland, on Aug. 9, 1787. He had been a resident of Batavia 58 years and had enjoyed comparatively good health until recently. His occupation was that of a day laborer.

AMERICA WON'T BE OUSTED.

Proposes to Keep Some Troops In China, Until Our Interests Are Conserved.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Chinese situation was the main topic under consideration at the cabinet meeting. The administration is not disposed to join with the other governments in making demands upon the Chinese imperial authorities which the Chinese government cannot comply with.

So far as our government is advised, the foreign ministers at Pekin have not yet agreed upon all points under such proposals as look to the prevention of the partition of China and the guarantee of the "open door" to all comers, yet it begins to appear from the course of the negotiations that either these promises were not sincere in all cases, or that some of the makers, honestly have changed their minds as to what shall be done for the present in China.

It may be stated, however, that the United States government does not propose to be driven out of the concert relative to China at this juncture in the negotiations.

All our troops will not be withdrawn until all proper interests of the United States in China have been conserved.

DEFENDS MISSIONARIES.

Wu Ting Fang Declared They Were Not to Blame For the Trouble In China.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, who arrived here from Washington, delivered an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He said in part:

Mr. Wu, in the course of his remarks, said the cause of the anti-foreign feeling in China is commonly supposed to be due entirely to the missionaries. This charge, he said, is unfair, for the missionaries, while in cases they have been indiscreet, have done much good in China. The general attitude of foreigners, he said, has had much to do with their unpopularity. They frequently treat the customs, traditions and institutions of the country with contemp, and in this way excite ill feeling. While some foreigners treat the Chinese with every consideration, unfortunately the mischief done by others counterbalances the favorable impression.

Heroic Missionaries Going Back.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The steamship China, which sails for the Orient, will take back the first missionaries that have ventured into China since the Boxer outbreak. Among those who will depart are Rev. Dr. Trowick and his bride. The former is from Nashville and the latter from Louisville. They go to Shanghai.

PLAYWRIGHT HOYT DEAD.

Expiered From Paresis at His Home In New Hampshire.

Charlestown, N. H., Nov. 21.—Charles H. Hoyt, the well-known playwright, died at his residence here of paresis, from which he had been suffering for several months past.

Haeseler Died of Typhoid.

New York, Nov. 21.—Lieutenant Francis Joy Haeseler, U. S. A., died at the naval hospital here of typhoid fever. Lieutenant Haeseler was eminent as an electrician, and was an expert in the application of compressed air in mechanics. In the battle off Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of Cevera's fleet, Lieutenant Haeseler was in charge of the starboard turret of the battleship Texas, and earned high praise for the way in which his guns were served.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Fury of a Shot Ignited Gas—One Man Killed and Four Injured.

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 21.—A frightful explosion of gas occurred in the Ellsworth No. 1 mine, near this place.

The dead:

Cyrus Lear, a machine boss and a native of England; skull fractured and badly burned about the body; died at the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg.

The injured:

John Kervitch, an Austrian, aged 30 years; burned about the head and body.

George Morav, an Austrian, aged 28 years; burned about the body and right arm and leg broken.

John Steice, aged 35 years; cut and bruised and injured internally.

Emilio Assissi, an Austrian, several bones broken and cut about the head and limbs.

The explosion was caused by the firing of a shot, which ignited the gas. It is a mystery how so much gas came to be in the mine wihtout the knowledge of the miners, and a thorough investigation will be made at once.

To Increase Number of Congressmen.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Representative Hopkins, of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on census, says the representation in congress will be increased.

The United States grand jury at Philadelphia ignored the bills of indictment against Isaac A. Sweigard, former superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, who is charged by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with having discharged employes of the Reading company because they were members of the Brotherhood.

Large Sales In Northern Pacific—Movements In Iron and Steel Irregular.

New York, Nov. 21.—The sales of Northern Pacific on Tuesday foot up, according to the customary approximate calculations, 201,800 shares for the common stock and 75,600 shares for the preferred stocks, a total of 277,400 shares. The common stock rose an extreme 6¼ and the preferred 6⅛. Various causes doubtless served to congest the speculation in these stocks. For one reason, there was but languid interest in the general market and the eager army of operators and speculators who are watching for available openings failed to find any until the movement in Northern Pacific developed. The volume and character of the dealings in the stocks, however, precluded the idea of a purely speculative operation.

The movement in the iron and steel stocks was exceedingly irregular, and a number of other specialties which have had recent notable advances hung back Tuesday. As a consequence, the day's net changes were exceedingly uneven, and not a few declines were mixed in with the notable gains. The conspicuously strong stocks, besides the Northern Pacifics, were the Union Pacifics, Great Northern preferred, the Atchisons, Missouri Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grandes and the Baltimore and Ohios. Among the industrials and specialties the Steel and Wire stocks, Federal Steel, the Tobaccos, People's Gas, Sugar, North American and International Power were conspicuous. After a sharp reaction on profit taking the Northern Pacifics rallied, carrying the whole market with them, and the closing was very animated and buoyant at about the top level.

IN SPITE OF THE PROTEST.

A British Ship Seized by Colombia to Transport Troops, Etc.

Panama, Nov. 21.—The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian government was due to the fact that the agent of the Pacific Steam Navigation company, to which she belonged, refused to sell or charter the vessel for the purpose of conveying government troops to Buenaventura, which was besieged by the Liberals.

The British consul here, C. Mallet, entered a strong protest against the seizure, but it was of no avail. He then communicated with his government on the subject. No reply has yet been received from London. The Taboga, with the government troops, etc., on board, arrived at Buenaventura, whereupon the Liberals retired.

Rev. Stuart Admitted to Bail.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—Rev. Stuart waived a hearing before Squire Hess, of Wyoming, on a charge of abortion, alleged to have been committed on his wife, now dead, and was sent to jail. Afterwards the squire admitted Stuart to $1,500 bail for a hearing today, as counsel claimed the offense was a mere misdemeanor and was bailable. It is said a charge of murder will be preferred later on.

To Honor Liscum's Memory.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 21.—The house of representatives adopted a joint resolution authorizing the governor to have painted a portrait of General E. H. Liscum, a native of Vermont, who was killed in China. The portrait is to be placed in the state house.

A French Joke.

Two tramps on the banks of the Seine:

"How can we raise the wind?"

"I have it. You throw yourself in, and I'll jump in after you and take you out. Then I'll get the reward from the Humane society."

"Good! Here goes!" He jumped into the water, and after floundering about for some time he was getting tired out. "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain sitting there? Why don't you come in and take me out?"

"Because I think I might make more out of you in the morgue."—Paris Journal.

Corrected.

"In your first edition," said the judge's henchman, "you say, 'Judge Booz, throughout yesterday's session of court, was as drunk as it was possible for him to be.' He was sober, and I want you to correct it."

"All right," replied the editor of The Evening Wasp. "We'll change it in our next edition. You're welcome! Good day, sir. (Pause.) Mr. Copikutter, strike out 'drunk' and insert 'sober' in that paragraph."—Philadelphia Press.

THE MINGO STRIKE SETTLED.

Wages Adjusted—Mills to Resume Maybe Tomorrow or Friday.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—At a conference last evening at the Mingo Junction office of the National Steel company, between District Manager A. B. Carter, of Wheeling, representing the company, and Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburg, representing the Amalgamated association, the differences existing in regard to the wage scale at that plant were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The company, it will be remembered, proposed a reduction of 33 per cent recently, which the men declined. The settlement provides for a reduction of 25 per cent, and the mills will resume tomorrow or Friday. The change in wages is really not a reduction, as the modern reconstruction of the mills has largely increased the output.

Died at Age of 103.

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Michael Carney, who claimed to be 103 years old, died here. He claimed he was born in Westport, Ireland, on Aug. 9, 1787. He had been a resident of Batavia 58 years and had enjoyed comparatively good health until recently. His occupation was that of a day laborer.

Harisburg, Pa., Nov. 21—John Sadler, of Greensburg, who was to have been hanged on Thursday in the Westmoreland county jail, was granted a respite by Governor Stone until Jan. 10, to allow his attorneys to apply to the board of pardons for a commutation of sentence.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1900.

STAY OUT.

Stay out of where? Out of the saloon, of course. Why? Because its open door is a passage way to the three "D's." What three "D's?" Dishonor, Death and Damnation.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

Practical education should be the special feature in our great public school system. First the rudimentary work, of course; next the solids; and then, if you see fit, the fol de rols.

QUIT IT.

Quit profanity. Why? Because it is unnecessary, vile, wrong, a sign of weakness and loss of self-control and true manhood; and, finally, because it is in direct opposition to the command of your Heavenly Father.

PENMANSHIP.

Is it an essential feature in a common school education? To our mind, and in our opinion, it is a matter of great importance. Poor penmanship has robbed many a bright young man of a remunerative situation.

KEEP IT UP.

Keep what up. Your spirit of push and hustle and energy. Why? Because it will do you good. Because it will please and benefit your employer. Because it will render your services desirable and you can always command a good salary.

DROP IT.

Drop what? Drop that cigarette, and let it stay dropped, or your employer will drop you. Don't get impudent and say that "he will not." He's thinking of letting you go at this very moment. Why? Simply because you're becoming a cigarette fiend.

EXPRESS SERVICE.

A prominent grocer was indulging in left-handed compliments this morning respecting the express service in connection with our city. His language was lurid and exceedingly uncomplimentary toward the object of his denunciations, and will not admit of repetition on this page. He asserts that he has plenty of backers and that they will be heard from in due time, and that there will be a monkey and a parrot time when the matter materializes.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

The desecration of the Sabbath day has become a painfully apparent feature in East Liverpool; and to this feature can be attributed much of the vice, immorality and lawlessness of our citizenship. The Sabbath desecrator may apparently succeed for the time being; but he is sure to be a failure in the long run. There can be no exceptions to this rule of the Almighty. "Vengeance is mine. I will repay," saith the Lord. The handwriting is on the wall. Have a care. Laugh now, if you will. You will have ample time to indulge in crying.

THE OHIO RIVER.

Our river reporter, a prophet on big rivers and boating stages, informs us that there will be sufficient water in the Ohio river bed tomorrow evening to float out the bottoms which are laden with black diamonds, and which are so badly needed here and at the lower ports.

POOR SERVICE.

The street railway company is, for some unknown reasons, giving very poor and unsatisfactory service, causing bitter complaint on the part of the public which travels over its lines. Denunciations are coming to this office constantly on the part of East End and Wellsville patrons. The statement is made that the general equipment of the line is worn out and that much needed repairs fail to materialize. At the hours when the toilers need transportation the cars are literally packed and jammed with human freight, every available inch of space being occupied, while "hangers on" are numerous. This is not in keeping with the splendid service which Manager Healy has been giving the public in the past, and they cannot understand the cause of the miserable service now prevailing. There must be a remedy; the traveling public will not bear the strain much longer. There is a point at which forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

ADVERTISE.

"Why shall I advertise?" Because it will pay you to do so. "How do you know that it will?" Because history repeats itself. The successful business man is the man who advertises. "Yes, I'll admit that that is the rule. But there are exceptions. I can cite a case where a business man is surrounded by business men who advertise liberally, and the man I refer to don't spend a cent in advertising; and yet he does a good business. How do you account for this?" That's an easy one, my friend. I've been there before. I've had just such an illustration in my business life. I can remember when we had a man in our town who did just as you have described. And he made money for quite a while. And then the business men soured on him and refused to associate with him and call him one of their number. Later on, the purchasing public became posted respecting his stinginess and imposition on his fellows, and he was eventually compelled, through loss of custom, to sell out and go elsewhere, despite the fact that he had one of the very best locations in the entire neighborhood; and the man who took his place, in the same line of business, a liberal advertiser, made money from the start and is still raking in his net share of the ducats.

"REFORM COMMITTEE."

There exists a superb organization in Sandusky, Ohio, known as the "Reform Committee." It devotes its spare time to indicting lawbreakers, and especially the keepers of dives and saloons who indulge in the sale of intoxicants on Sunday. Why should we fail to have an organization in East Liverpool? What city of like size in Ohio stands more in need of such a society, embracing men of all parties and creeds; courageous men; fearless men; men who have the best interests of our city at heart; men who are heart sick and weary of trifling with fellows who have no respect for law or for decency; men who object to their wives and children seeing drunken loafers staggering along our thoroughfares on the Sabbath day; men who are determined that the saloonists of this city shall obey the law or take the consequences; men who will see that the next non-partisan vote on the question of saloons or no saloons shall be conducted in a manner which will show the true wish of our people, when only those legally entitled to vote shall cast a ballot. By all means let us have a non-partisan reform committee in East Liverpool.

STREET CLEANING.

An Elegant Job of This Morning is Fully Appreciated by This Citizen.

"Editor News Review—The rain came as a blessing this morning, delighting those who are short of coal and who have been anxiously longing for a rise in the river. It also came as a blessing to farmers who are owners of stock. And, finally, it came as a blessing in the cleaning of our streets, many of which have been sadly neglected by some one in authority. A glance down Fourth, from Broadway, shows the avenue in better condition from the standpoint of cleanliness, than it has been for many months past; and other avenues, streets and alleys have been benefited in a similar manner.

Beds and Sleeping.

A German doctor has been investigating the question of beds, and the result of his labors has been lately given to the world in the pages of a German journal. In the first place, to convince mankind of the importance of his subject, the doctor reminds all mankind that we spend from one-fourth to one-third of our lives in bed, after which he proceeds to advise the world on the healthiest kind of couch and the most sensible manner of reposing thereon.

A hard bed appears to be the best, and it is laid down that children from the earliest years should be trained to sleep on these hard beds. Soft beds are too warm and do not admit sufficient air. Even in the case of the hard bed the sleeper is warned to see that his covering, whether woolen or cotton, is not so heavy that the body is kept overwarm and fresh air is excluded. This ventilation, according to our authority, is all important. But what will middle aged people say when the man of science bids them dispense with their pillows? Pillows, he declares, are evils, and it is right that we should sleep with limbs uncramped on a perfectly horizontal plane. Knowing the weakness of human flesh, however, the doctor declares that if pillows are retained they should be neither too soft nor too thick.

A point on which most people will agree with this authority is the necessity for constant (the doctor asks for daily) airing and sunning of the bedding. Much ill health may be attributed to carelessness in this matter.—London Globe.

A Story of Whistler.

The Boston Transcript says: "A diverting anecdote is told of the boyhood of Mr. Whistler, the greatest modern impressionist. He was apprenticed to some engineers who were etching elaborate maps on copper. One day his employer asked him if he also could etch maps on copper. 'Oh, yes. I can etch,' promptly answered young Whistler.

"As a matter of fact he had never used an etching needle in his life. However, they gave him the copper, and he set to work, making a very fine and beautiful map. But round the edges of the plate, which when bitten in with acid are always stopped out, he etched some characteristic little sketches of the different members of the firm, including a very humorous one of the chief himself.

"Shortly after he happened to go away for a week or two for his holiday. Meantime the plate had been bitten in and printed with all of the dreadful little caricatures that he had forgotten to stop out appearing in startling prominence, the sketch of the chief being especially remarkable because of its great resemblance to that gentleman, who was so enraged at the indignity of the thing that immediately on Whistler's return he dismissed him."

The Gold Brick Swindle.

"The gold brick swindle," said a business man quoted in the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "is one of the most plausible propositions ever advanced and has landed some of the cleverest business men in the country. A number of years ago it used to be a common thing for banks in the west to buy gold bricks—I mean real ones—and frequently there were the best of reasons for keeping the transaction quiet.

"It often happened that the owner of some partly developed mine would make an unexpected strike and wish to buy the adjacent property. Naturally he would want to hold back the news of his discovery until he secured the land and if he had any bullion to dispose of would make the sale as quietly as possible. The banks became accustomed to deals of that kind and were consequently pretty easy prey for the gold brick swindler who turned up with a precisely similar story.

"I don't believe I exaggerate when I say that fully one-third of all the banking houses in the western mineral belt were at some time victimized by this game."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1900.

STAY OUT.

Stay out of where? Out of the saloon, of course. Why? Because its open door is a passage way to the three "D's." What three "D's?" Dishonor, Death and Damnation.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

Practical education should be the special feature in our great public school system. First the rudimentary work, of course; next the solids; and then, if you see fit, the foi de rois.

QUIT IT.

Quit profanity. Why? Because it is unnecessary, vile, wrong, a sign of weakness and loss of self-control and true manhood; and, finally, because it is in direct opposition to the command of your Heavenly Father.

PENMANSHIP.

Is it an essential feature in a common school education? To our mind, and in our opinion, it is a matter of great importance. Poor penmanship has robbed many a bright young man of a remunerative situation.

KEEP IT UP.

Keep what up. Your spirit of push and hustle and energy. Why? Because it will do you good. Because it will please and benefit your employer. Because it will render your services desirable and you can always command a good salary.

DROP IT.

Drop what? Drop that cigarette, and let it stay dropped, or your employer will drop you. Don't get impudent and say that "he will not." He's thinking of letting you go at this very moment. Why? Simply because you're becoming a cigarette fiend.

EXPRESS SERVICE.

A prominent grocer was indulging in left-handed compliments this morning respecting the express service in connection with our city. His language was lurid and exceedingly uncomplimentary toward the object of his denunciations, and will not admit of repetition on this page. He asserts that he has plenty of backers and that they will be heard from in due time, and that there will be a monkey and a parrot time when the matter materializes.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

The desecration of the Sabbath day has become a painfully apparent feature in East Liverpool; and to this feature can be attributed much of the vice, immorality and lawlessness of our citizenship. The Sabbath desecrator may apparently succeed for the time being; but he is sure to be a failure in the long run. There can be no exceptions to this rule of the Almighty. "Vengeance is mine. I will repay," saith the Lord. The handwriting is on the wall. Have a care. Laugh now, if you will. You will have ample time to indulge in crying.

THE OHIO RIVER.

Our river reporter, a prophet on big rivers and boating stages, informs us that there will be sufficient water in the Ohio river bed tomorrow evening to float out the bottoms which are laden with black diamonds, and which are so badly needed here and at the lower ports.

POOR SERVICE.

The street railway company is, for some unknown reasons, giving very poor and unsatisfactory service, causing bitter complaint on the part of the public which travels over its lines. Denunciations are coming to this office constantly on the part of East End and Wellsville patrons. The statement is made that the general equipment of the line is worn out and that much needed repairs fail to materialize. At the hours when the toilers need transportation the cars are literally packed and jammed with human freight, every available inch of space being occupied, while "hangers on" are numerous. This is not in keeping with the splendid service which Manager Healy has been giving the public in the past, and they cannot understand the cause of the miserable service now prevailing. There must be a remedy; the traveling public will not bear the strain much longer. There is a point at which forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

ADVERTISE.

"Why shall I advertise?" Because it will pay you to do so. "How do you know that it will?" Because history repeats itself. The successful business man is the man who advertises. "Yes, I'll admit that that is the rule. But there are exceptions. I can cite a case where a business man is surrounded by business men who advertise liberally, and the man I refer to don't spend a cent in advertising; and yet he does a good business. How do you account for this?" That's an easy one, my friend. I've been there before. I've had just such an illustration in my business life. I can remember when we had a man in our town who did just as you have described. And he made money for quite a while. And then the business men soured on him and refused to associate with him and call him one of their number. Later on, the purchasing public became posted respecting his stinginess and imposition on his fellows, and he was eventually compelled, through loss of custom, to sell out and go elsewhere, despite the fact that he had one of the very best locations in the entire neighborhood; and the man who took his place, in the same line of business, a liberal advertiser, made money from the start and is still raking in his net share of the ducats.

"REFORM COMMITTEE."

There exists a superb organization in Sandusky, Ohio, known as the "Reform Committee." It devotes its spare time to indicting lawbreakers, and especially the keepers of dives and saloons who indulge in the sale of intoxicants on Sunday. Why should we fail to have an organization in East Liverpool? What city of like size in Ohio stands more in need of such a society, embracing men of all parties and creeds; courageous men; fearless men; men who have the best interests of our city at heart; men who are heart sick and weary of trifling with fellows who have no respect for law or for decency; men who object to their wives and children seeing drunken loafers staggering along our thoroughfares on the Sabbath day; men who are determined that the saloonists of this city shall obey the law or take the consequences; men who will see that the next non-partisan vote on the question of saloons or no saloons shall be conducted in a manner which will show the true wish of our people, when only those legally entitled to vote shall cast a ballot. By all means let us have a non-partisan reform committee in East Liverpool.

WANT A CHARTER.

The Douglass-Matheny Glass Factory for New Martinsville is Now a Go.

The New Martinsville Glass company which is being promoted by Messrs. Mark Douglass and George Matheny, has applied for a charter and the factory is now a certainty for New Martinsville.

The application is made by Mr. Hamilton, of Wheeling, Mark Douglass and David Fisher, of Martin's Ferry, and George Matheny and P. D. Morris, of New Martinsville.

All the money for the concern has been subscribed and as soon as the charter is received a meeting of the stockholders will be held to select a board of directors. It is the purpose to break ground for the building in less than two weeks and push it to completion as soon as possible.

STREET CLEANING.

An Elegant Job of This Morning is Fully Appreciated by This Citizen.

"Editor News Review—The rain came as a blessing this morning, delighting those who are short of coal and who have been anxiously longing for a rise in the river. It also came as a blessing to farmers who are owners of stock. And, finally, it came as a blessing in the cleaning of our streets, many of which have been sadly neglected by some one in authority. A glance down Fourth, from Broadway, shows the avenue in better condition from the standpoint of cleanliness, than it has been for many months past; and other avenues, streets and alleys have been benefited in a similar manner.

"CITIZEN."

A RICH TREAT.

Do You Desire to Spend an Evening of Rich And Rare Enjoyment.

If you do, then take your lady friends with you and go to the First U. P. church tomorrow night, Thursday, November 22, and hear Miss Eva Marshall Shontz, one of the most talented women in the nation today and one of the most cultured speakers. It will cost you nothing but good will, as no admission fee will be charged. And you should be early in attendance, as the indications are that the lady will be greeted by a crowded house. Lecture commences at 8 o'clock.

Will Was Probated.

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The will in the estate of the late Job Huestin, of Fairfield township, was admitted to probate and Edmund Huestin appointed executor. No bond was required.

Beds and Sleeping.

A German doctor has been investigating the question of beds, and the result of his labors has been lately given to the world in the pages of a German journal. In the first place, to convince mankind of the importance of his subject, the doctor reminds all mankind that we spend from one-fourth to one-third of our lives in bed, after which he proceeds to advise the world on the healthiest kind of couch and the most sensible manner of reposing thereon.

A hard bed appears to be the best, and it is laid down that children from the earliest years should be trained to sleep on these hard beds. Soft beds are too warm and do not admit sufficient air. Even in the case of the hard bed the sleeper is warned to see that his covering, whether woolen or cotton, is not so heavy that the body is kept overwarm and fresh air is excluded. This ventilation, according to our authority, is all important. But what will middle aged people say when the man of science bids them dispense with their pillows? Pillows, he declares, are evils, and it is right that we should sleep with limbs uncramped on a perfectly horizontal plane. Knowing the weakness of human flesh, however, the doctor declares that if pillows are retained they should be neither too soft nor too thick.

A point on which most people will agree with this authority is the necessity for constant (the doctor asks for daily) airing and sunning of the bedding. Much ill health may be attributed to carelessness in this matter.—London Globe.

A Story of Whistler.

The Boston Transcript says: "A diverting anecdote is told of the boyhood of Mr. Whistler, the greatest modern impressionist. He was apprenticed to some engineers who were etching elaborate maps on copper. One day his employer asked him if he also could etch maps on copper. 'Oh, yes. I can etch,' promptly answered young Whistler.

"As a matter of fact he had never used an etching needle in his life. However, they gave him the copper, and he set to work, making a very fine and beautiful map. But round the edges of the plate, which when bitten in with acid are always stopped out, he etched some characteristic little sketches of the different members of the firm, including a very humorous one of the chief himself.

"Shortly after he happened to go away for a week or two for his holiday. Meantime the plate had been bitten in and printed with all of the dreadful little caricatures that he had forgotten to stop out appearing in startling prominence, the sketch of the chief being especially remarkable because of its great resemblance to that gentleman, who was so enraged at the indignity of the thing that immediately on Whistler's return he dismissed him."

The Gold Brick Swindle.

"The gold brick swindle," said a business man quoted in the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "is one of the most plausible propositions ever advanced and has landed some of the cleverest business men in the country. EAST END.

A MOVEMENT TO REVOKE FRANCHISE

East End People Are Hearily Tired of the Present Street Car Service.

TWO INCIDENTS THIS MORNING

The Royal Tigers Will Accept the Challenge of the National Guards.

ALL THE NEWS OF EAST END

A street car ran off the track at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Mulberry street this morning, and a great deal of inconvenience was occasioned. The gravel about the track was washed out, letting the rail down.

About a dozen passengers were drenched to the skin on board a west bound street car this morning while the heavy rain was in progress. Manager Healy was a passenger and was compelled to take his medicine along with the rest.

The rain poured into the car from all sides through holes in the woodwork and broken panes of glass. Some amusement was created by George McKinnon, who hoisted his umbrella in the car and protected himself as best he could from the elements.

A prominent city official who resides in East End is authority for the statement that there is a movement on foot, which, unless a better service is furnished, will result in the franchise of the company being revoked.

LOUD TALK.

Four or Five Men Had a Discussion at the Corner of Mulberry Street.

A great deal of disturbance was created on the railroad near Mulberry street last night, in which four or five men indulged in a great deal of loud talk and it looked as though a fight would result.

Officer Hamilton appeared on the scene and dispersed the crowd, but one of the men insisted upon having trouble and some time afterward appeared in the street in front of a saloon, where he doffed his coat and wanted to whip the whole town. Some of his friends got hold of the fellow and he was taken home.

THEY ACCEPT.

Royal Tigers Are Willing to Meet the National Guards at Any Time.

The Royal Tigers have decided to accept the challenge of the National Guard foot ball team, and are willing to meet a representative of their club at any time or place to post a forfeit and arrange for a game on neutral grounds.

Strength In Aluminium.

In reply to the question which, it is said, metal workers frequently ask, "What is the strength of aluminium?" The Aluminium World says that cast aluminium is about equal in strength to cast iron in tension, while in resisting compression it is comparatively weak. Under transverse strain aluminium is not very rigid, but it will bend nearly double before breaking. The tensile strength of aluminium is greatly improved by forging and pressing at a temperature of 600 degrees F., and aluminium alloyed with nickel is much stronger than the pure metal.

Strength In Aluminium.

In reply to the question which, it is said, metal workers frequently ask, "What is the strength of aluminium?" The Aluminium World says that cast aluminium is about equal in strength to cast iron in tension, while in resisting compression it is comparatively weak. Under transverse strain aluminium is not very rigid, but it will bend nearly double before breaking. The tensile strength of aluminium is greatly improved by forging and pressing at a temperature of 600 degrees F., and aluminium alloyed with nickel is much stronger than the pure metal.

THE STREET CAR MADE GOOD TIME

Got Beyond Control of the Motorman and Left the Track at The

FOOT OF WASHINGTON STREET

The Car Went Almost to the Railroad Track Before It Stopped.

BETTER SERVICE IS NEEDED

Below is given a number of facts in regard to the service given the people by the East Liverpool Street Railway company:

Street car No. 1, in charge of Motorman George Custer, while going down the Washington street hill last night got beyond the control of the motorman and dashed down the hill at a terrible speed. When the curve was reached the car left the rails and ran almost to the railroad.

A number of passengers were on the car and they received a bad scare. A team of horses were secured and the car was again placed on the rails.

Early in the evening a car going west was stalled on the Washington street hill, but the motorman succeeded in preventing it from going back, while the necessary repairs were made.

There was not a car to East End between 6 and 7 o'clock. One car burnt out and in a short time there was five in a bunch.

The Calcutta road car is supposed to be fitted with the latest safety device. That device consists of a large block of wood held by an ordinary clothes line, doubled and fastened to the trucks with chains. Should the car get away from the motorman he could drop the log in front of the car wheels.

Section 6 of the ordinance granting a franchise to the East Liverpool Railway company says:

"Said railroad company, its successors and assigns, shall place and continue on said roads good cars with all modern improvements for the convenience and comfort of passengers, to be propelled by horses, electricity, cable or other suitable power as may be approved by council, and shall run them as often as the public convenience may require, and under such direction as the city council may from time to time require or prescribe."

It is probable the matter will be taken up by council at the next meeting.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF A SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

A Large Number of Items of Interest Gathered in the Little Village.

The Ohio Sunday School association convened in the Presbyterian church of this place Friday afternoon and evening.

First session at 2 p. m. Rev. Pennel, of the Elkton circuit, Methodist Episcopal church, was the first to speak, his theme being the "Teachers' Meeting." He handled it in a very interesting manner and his short address was packed full of common sense.

Mrs. Adelaide Scott, of Rogers, came next with "The Preparation of the Teacher," which reflected that deep thought and skillful preparation to be expected of a woman with Mrs. Scott's well trained mind and resources.

Dr. McCauley, of Salem, came next with Bible in hand and entertained his audience with some old fashioned scripture reading, and talk of how to conduct a Sunday school. He answered all questions in an able manner.

The evening session opened at 7 o'clock with Rev. J. P. Anderson, of Lisbon, and reinforcements from Rogers, both to the choir and a quartet of gentlemen, composed of the following: Profs. McCommon and Greenwalt and Caskey and the editor of the Noon-Tide, J. Harry Reed, who entertained the audience with several fine selections.

Rev. J. P. Anderson presented the work of the state association, statistics and all, without a dull moment of time, and the fine audience which had gathered for the evening session came away with a knowledge of the workings of the association, which they never possessed before.

Dr. McCauley again gave a scripture reading and talk, which was very much appreciated.

Prof. Greenwalt, of Rogers, recited, in his own inimical way, "When Jamie Came Back."

The choir of the Presbyterian church, Miss Eva Vale leader and organist, was up to its level best and ready at a moment's notice to perform its share of the work.

Rev. McCombs Pastor was not able to be present. Mr. Elder, of Lisbon, came with Mr. Anderson. Dr. Stanton Crawford, of Rogers, was present in the evening. William Lones and family, of Cream Ridge, drove over and was present at the evening session, notwithstanding hills, cliffs, distance and darkness. Why, out west they do better than that—they journey over all kinds of impassable and impossible roads on horse back, three and four hundred miles for the privilege of attending a Sunday School convention.

The occasion was very pleasant, and we hope to entertain the association again.

Chalmers Saint has been on the sick list for several days.

Mrs. John Souders is getting along nicely—the broken leg is not giving trouble, but seems to be healing.

The church is very pleasantly warm since the old stoves have been abandoned and a furnace put in.

Mrs. Charity Gaston is reported to be growing in health and strength with prospects of recovery. She has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Feezle, in the Bell district, and is expected home this week.

The editor of the Noon-Tide, J. Harry Reed, of Rogers, took an active part in the Sunday School convention and was a member of the quartet.

Harvey Elliott, of Negley, is teaching the district school here, and Elmer Warrick at New Harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gaston expect to visit Mrs. Gaston's father, brother and sister in California this winter. They will leave in a few weeks. Her father, William Conkle, is an old-time resident of this county and will be remembered by many of your readers.

The tenant house on the Warrick farm is nearing completion and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Elder Huston, of East Carmel.

Homer Warrick has built a nice cottage on a lot of his father's farm close to town.

Mrs. M. A. Feezle is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Natrona, Pa.

Sheridan Avenue Family Are Not Properly Disposing of Their Garbage.

Complaint is being made by a number of families on Sheridan avenue of the action of a family in that vicinity, who, instead of having their garbage hauled away by the people who have the contract with the city to do such work, burn it in an outhouse, thereby annoying everyone in the neighborhood.

Unless a stop is put to the practice complaint will be made to the authorities.

DISMISSED.

Mrs. Rosa M. Tucker Didn't Have Cause for Action Against Ed Fitzgerald.

The case wherein Rosa M. Tucker sued Ed Fitzgerald in the court of Justice Fitzgerald for $1, claimed due for extraordinary services, was tried last night, and a verdict rendered for defendant.

The squire held that there was no evidence on which to base a case, and so dismissed the action.

This Merchant Gives The News Review Warm Words of Commendation.

A prominent merchant of East Liverpool, a keen business man and a very close observer of trade, said to the owner and manager of this paper:

"You are publishing a clean, bright, newsy paper. I read it every evening, and make note of the advertisements as well, as I am especially interested in such matters, being an advertiser myself and watching closely the interests of myself and partners. I believe that every man welcomes words of commendation, given in the right manner and coming from the right source. I keep a line of good goods; articles which I sell very close, having but a light margin, and am of course anxious to make them move rapidly, and I want to tell you that I find the News Review to be a first-class sheet to assist me in moving these goods, and I know that it pays me well to advertise with you."

We thanked the wide-awake business man heartily for his good words, and we thank him for his patronage and his monthly checks, which are as good as so much gold, and we are willing to form the business acquaintance of a host of such advertisers.

THE HEAD OF MOSES.

WHY THE LEADER OF ISRAEL IS REPRESENTED WITH HORNS.

The Error Which Gave Root to the Curious Idea That Is Perpetuated by Paintings, Coins and Statues. Michael Angelo's Masterpiece.

In one of the schools of the District is a copy of Michael Angelo's "Moses." That small statuette was a storm center for weeks, the pupils and teachers vying with each other in an attempt to find an answer to the question of one of the small pupils who gravely queried the why of the incipient horns which ornamented the head of the rugged leader of the Israelites as he is represented in this masterpiece of Michael Angelo's, a masterpiece, by the way, which started out to be a Jove or some other fiction of the brain, but which the great sculptor finally shaped into the likeness of Pope Julius and christened "Moses."

For 40 years, just as long as Moses and his people wandered in the wilderness, this statue stood in the workshop of its gifted creator before the world saw it, but it types today the universal conception of the great lawgiver, horns and all.

It has been known for centuries, though, that the translation of Habakkuk, which says, "And his brightness was as light; he had horns coming out of his head," is incorrect and the mistake of the "intelligent compositor," who in his illuminated text got mixed up on his "a's" and "e's" and made "qaran" head "qeren," as nearly as Hebrew can be made into cold English. The former means "rays;" the latter means "horns," and there you are.

St. Jerome in rendering "his face shone" in the passage in Exodus gave it its primitive meaning and mistranslation and has sent down to us through the ages "faciem esse cornatam," being "his face was horned." Thus it seems that a mistake stereotyped in stone remains to torment the youth who likes to know the why of things.

Just why artists and sculptors keep on perpetuating this idea is one of the inscrutable things of life. But more than anybody else perhaps artists cling to tradition, and since the great masters gave Moses horns it must be the proper thing to do, and that is probably why he wears horns in modern as well as mediæval art.

In the Congressional library, on the south side of the big sunflower clock, is a gigantic bronze Moses by Niehaus, and he has horns that look not unlike those wonderful bumps that Ben Butler's big head used to wear. In the Boston library John Sargeant, the great painter, for a centerpiece to a procession of the prophets painted Moses with full front view and horns like a Texas steer, and infolding him is a queer conventional kind of drapery that looks like eagles' wings.

In striking and pleasing contrast to these horned conceptions which the ancients have imposed upon us and which we still accept is a copy of a splendid Moses by Plockhorst representing the archangel Michael struggling with Satan for the dead body of Moses, which is upborne by three little angels. The Moses has instead of horns upon his grandly conceived head rays of light which seem to mellow and soften the stern face of the dead lawgiver. Plockhorst has painted real child angels, too, not fat little kids with legs and arms like prizefighters and bodies like beer tanks. This heliotint, which is in the library of congress, is a present from the royal gallery in Berlin.

Nicolas Poussin painted some 20 pictures of Moses from a pudgy little baby in the bulrush basket to Moses "on gray Bethpeor's height," some of them with horns and some of them without. Five of these pictures are of the baby in the water and just out of it, and the heads are as varied as those of Columbus on the exposition postage stamps. Some of them look like advertisements for hair restoratives and others as though wigs would enhance the appearance of the baldheaded babies whose painted faces look as many years old as the baby Moses had lived minutes when found by Thermutis. Another by this author has horns that extend out from the sides of the head like the ears of a mule and represents Moses as striking the rock in the wilderness. This is a very funny picture, anyway, for the camels have heads like horses, and the horses look like almost anything that stands on four legs excepting horses.

This curious idea of a horned Moses has not only been perpetuated by paintings, coins and statues, but has also passed muster with many writers of acknowledged fame. Grotius, for instance, identifies Moses with the horned Mnevis of Egypt and suggests that the phenomenon was intended to remind the Israelites of the golden calf. Spanheim, however, stigmatizes the efforts of art in this direction as "preposterous industry" and distinctly attributes to Jerome a veritable belief in the horns of Moses. Crude as is the mistranslation not one person in ten, as the schoolteachers and pupils found out, have any idea why it is that artists and sculptors still depict Moses with horns.—Washington Star.

It has been found on study of 300 cases of loss of hair that baldness prevails most with unmarried men, which is contrary to the general belief. The worries of the bachelor may be fewer, but they are more trying to the scalp than are the multitudinous cares of the man of family. Most bald people are found to lead indoor lives, and almost all of them belong to the intellectual class. Usually the loss of hair begins before the thirtieth year. In woman it usually constitutes a general thinning; in men it affects the top of the head. Diseases that affect the general nutrition of the body are likely to thin the hair. Heredity is a factor. If one has baldheaded ancestors, all the drugs of the pharmacopœia will not bring out flowing locks.

Happy old age

Many women who have enjoyed good health all their life begin to fade when they reach the age of forty-four. They grow nervous and irritable and suffer with sick-headaches. Their livers are torpid, their digestion is impaired and their bowels are irregular. They are experiencing the "change of life." And it is not strange that the cessation of the menstrual habit after thirty years operation should disturb the system and tax the strongest constitution. This trying period has no terror for a woman who uses Wine of Cardui. It builds up her strength and prepares her for the ordeal. When the change of life is not safely passed, a woman quickly becomes an invalid. Slumbering disease germs are given increased activity and they appear in aggravated form. If you take Wine of Cardui regularly when approaching the change of life you will be assured better health than you have ever enjoyed before. A happy old age and restful calm will be your reward. Mrs. Campbell was cured after suffering three years with "change of life." Thedford's Black-Draught, the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui, assimilates with it perfectly, curing digestive liver and kidney affections, and throwing impurities and disease germs out of the system. Both working together make a well and happy woman.

I have recommended your Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught to several of my lady friends, and I can say they are what you recommend them to be. I give thanks to Wine of Cardui and you, for it relieved me. Mrs. D. H. CAMPBELL.

But more than anybody else perhaps artists cling to tradition, and since the great masters gave Moses horns it must be the proper thing to do, and that is probably why he wears horns in modern as well as mediæval art.

In the Congressional library, on the south side of the big sunflower clock, is a gigantic bronze Moses by Niehaus, and he has horns that look not unlike those wonderful bumps that Ben Butler's big head used to wear. In the Boston library John Sargeant, the great painter, for a centerpiece to a procession of the prophets painted Moses with full front view and horns like a Texas steer, and infolding him is a queer conventional kind of drapery that looks like eagles' wings.

In striking and pleasing contrast to these horned conceptions which the ancients have imposed upon us and which we still accept is a copy of a splendid Moses by Plockhorst representing the archangel Michael struggling with Satan for the dead body of Moses, which is upborne by three little angels. The Moses has instead of horns upon his grandly conceived head rays of light which seem to mellow and soften the stern face of the dead lawgiver. Plockhorst has painted real child angels, too, not fat little kids with legs and arms like prizefighters and bodies like beer tanks. This heliotint, which is in the library of congress, is a present from the royal gallery in Berlin.

Nicolas Poussin painted some 20 pictures of Moses from a pudgy little baby in the bulrush basket to Moses "on gray Bethpeor's height," some of them with horns and some of them without. Five of these pictures are of the baby in the water and just out of it, and the heads are as varied as those of Columbus on the exposition postage stamps. Some of them look like advertisements for hair restoratives and others as though wigs would enhance the appearance of the baldheaded babies whose painted faces look as many years old as the baby Moses had lived minutes when found by Thermutis. Another by this author has horns that extend out from the sides of the head like the ears of a mule and represents Moses as striking the rock in the wilderness. This is a very funny picture, anyway, for the camels have heads like horses, and the horses look like almost anything that stands on four legs excepting horses.

This curious idea of a horned Moses has not only been perpetuated by paintings, coins and statues, but has also passed muster with many writers of acknowledged fame. Grotius, for instance, identifies Moses with the horned Mnevis of Egypt and suggests that the phenomenon was intended to remind the Israelites of the golden calf. Spanheim, however, stigmatizes the efforts of art in this direction as "preposterous industry" and distinctly attributes to Jerome a veritable belief in the horns of Moses. Crude as is the mistranslation not one person in ten, as the schoolteachers and pupils found out, have any idea why it is that artists and sculptors still depict Moses with horns.—Washington Star.

It has been found on study of 300 cases of loss of hair that baldness prevails most with unmarried men, which is contrary to the general belief. The worries of the bachelor may be fewer, but they are more trying to the scalp than are the multitudinous cares of the man of family. Most bald people are found to lead indoor lives, and almost all of them belong to the intellectual class. Usually the loss of hair begins before the thirtieth year. In woman it usually constitutes a general thinning; in men it affects the top of the head. Diseases that affect the general nutrition of the body are likely to thin the hair. Heredity is a factor. If one has baldheaded ancestors, all the drugs of the pharmacopœia will not bring out flowing locks.

Happy old age

Many women who have enjoyed good health all their life begin to fade when they reach the age of forty-four. They grow nervous and irritable and suffer with sick-headaches. Their livers are torpid, their digestion is impaired and their bowels are irregular. They are experiencing the "change of life." And it is not strange that the cessation of the menstrual habit after thirty years operation should disturb the system and tax the strongest constitution. This trying period has no terror for a woman who uses Wine of Cardui. It builds up her strength and prepares her for the ordeal. When the change of life is not safely passed, a woman quickly becomes an invalid. Slumbering disease germs are given increased activity and they appear in aggravated form. If you take Wine of Cardui regularly when approaching the change of life you will be assured better health than you have ever enjoyed before. A happy old age and restful calm will be your reward. Mrs. Campbell was cured after suffering three years with "change of life." Thedford's Black-Draught, the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui, assimilates with it perfectly, curing digestive liver and kidney affections, and throwing impurities and disease germs out of the system. Both working together make a well and happy woman.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

YOUNGS, Laurens Co., S.C., Sept. [illegible]
I have recommended your Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught to several of my lady friends, and I can say they are what you recommend them to be. I have been suffering three years with the "change of life," and could not get anything that would do me any good until I tried your medicine, and I owe thanks to Wine of Cardui and you, for it relieved me. Mrs. D. H. [illegible].

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 140. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1900. TWO CENTS

CUNNINGHAM WAS DISCHARGED

He Was Given a Hearing Before Mayor Huxley at Salem This Morning.

NO EVIDENCE WAS INTRODUCED

Couldn't Be Proved That He Fired the Shot Which Injured Laura Green.

MILLER STORY PROBABLY TRUE

Harry Cunningham, the potter who was accused of having shot Miss Laura Green, of this city, was given a hearing in Salem this morning before Mayor Huxley.

Sheriff Noragon and Deputy Sheriff Bick were present at the hearing, but no evidence was submitted and Cunningham was discharged by the mayor.

Mrs. Mary Green and her daughter, Miss Laura Green, of this city, were present when the time arrived to call the case, but it was deemed best to not go ahead with the trial, as the story of the Miller girl, who says she did the shooting, seems to be true.

The story told by her was at first discredited, but it now appears as though the shooting really was accidental.

Miss Laura Green, who was shot, refused to give any testimony that would incriminate Cunningham, and it seems as though the case which has created such a stir is now at an end.

SENSATIONAL.

DISCLOSURES MADE AGAINST A LISBON DOCTOR.

Mrs. Martha Miller, of Alliance, Claimed to be a Victim of a Mysterious Transaction.

Readers of the News Review will remember reading in the colmuns of this paper a story in regard to a Chicago man thrashing Dr. Beilhart, a spiritualist, who conducts a sanitarium and prints a spiritualist paper at Lisbon.

The following, taken from the Alliance Leader in regard to the doctor, will be interesting:

J. J. Yochum, of North Liberty avenue, went to Lisbon today on business connected with the property of Miss Martha Miller, who recently resided here.

It seems that several months ago Miss Miller, who inherited considerable property from her father, who owned a business place on Main street, opened up a correspondence with Dr. Beilhart, who has a sanitarium near Lisbon.

Miss Miller at that time was suffering from some illness, the outcome of which she was fearful of. Accordingly she made arrangements with Dr. Beilhart to enter his hospital. However, he informed her that before she could enter, it would be necessary for her to transfer all her earthly possessions to him, as only in that way would a cure be effected. This she did. Having sold her property on Main street and converted all her goods into cash, she then entered the hospital, after having turned over, as it is claimed, all her money to Dr. Beilhart.

Relatives in this city have for some time been suspicious of the whole transaction. Recently a rumor came to them that the doctor had built a handsome new residence from the funds of Miss Miller, and she was getting no better. This fact, together with the difficulty experienced in hearing from the woman, has aroused their anxiety and today Mr. Yochum went to Lisbon. In an interview he stated that he would attempt to recover Miss Miller's property. The amount claimed to have been turned over to Dr. Beilhart is about $3,000.

The affair is an extremely sensational one, and its outcome is watched with no little interest.

Had Thrown a Sponge Full of Slip And Was Endeavoring to Escape.

Pete Curren, of West End, employed as a batter out at the Smith & McNicol pottery, Wellsville, while at work yesterday morning met with a very painful accident, and one which will likely lay him up for some time to come.

HEART FAILED HIM.

Jacob Seitz Didn't Have the Heart to Kill His Dog And Officer Dawson Shot It.

When Jacob Seitz undertook to shoot his dog yesterday afternoon his heart failed him, and he was compelled to give it up.

It will be remembered the dog bit a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Oschman and was ordered killed by the mayor.

Officer Dawson went to the Seitz house on Walnut street about 3 o'clock yesterday, and finding the animal had not yet been dispatched, shot it.

The dog was a valuable one, being valued by its owner at $50.

ABUSED THE HORSES.

Spectators Complained About the Inhuman Treatment of a Fine Team.

Last evening the driver of the horses which were used to pull the street car back on the track at the corner of Second and Washington streets whipped the faithful animals in an unmerciful manner.

Spectators complained and the driver desisted. If an officer could have been found at the time the man would have been arrested.

The case will be reported to Humane Agent Miller.

TO INCREASE THE SELLING PRICE

Manufacturers at the Meeting to Be Held on Dec. 4 Will Raise Prices

ON SOME KINDS OF WARE

Movement Started In Trenton, and All the Eastern Potters Favor the Plan.

THE TARIFF WILL PERMIT IT

The meeting of the Manufacturers' Potters association will be held at Hotel Henry, Pittsburg, on December 4 and a number of important questions will be discussed.

From a very reliable source it has been learned that a paper, signed by the Trenton manufacturers and in fact all the eastern manufacturers, has been sent to this city advocating that the selling scale on certain lines of ware be increased. The goods mentioned are ewers, basins, etc.

The tariff has been looked after and it has been determined that the raise can be made safely without fear of competition on the part of the English manufacturers.

The local potters are much in favor of the increase.

It has almost been decided to abandon the manufacture of one size of teas known as Southern teas. This will also be brought before the meeting.

Gourley Asks $1,000 Damages From the Company For Injuries He Sustained.

REPAIRS WERE BEING MADE

As Gourley Passed by a Timber Was Thrown and Hit Him on the Head

INFLICTING A PAINFUL WOUND

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A suit for $1,000 damages was filed here today by David Gourley against the East Liverpool Pottery company.

Gourley states that during October the defendant company was improving and repairing their pottery by removing and replacing the timbers and flooring of what is known as the glaze room which fronted on College street.

On October 13 Gourley was passing along the sidewalk when the employe of the defendant company, in willful disregard of the safety of those passing, threw a lot of material down upon the sidewalk. A large piece of timber struck the plaintiff on the head, rendering him unconscious and cutting a deep gash in his forehead near the right eye.

He claims he suffered intense pain in his head for several weeks and was compelled to incur great expense. His occupation had been that of a jiggerman and he was compelled to lose his labor by reason of his injuries. He claims he will be damaged for life.

Some 50 members were present and after the business of the meeting had been completed, dancing and other amusements were indulged in until a late hour.

STORM DEALT DEATH.

Nineteen Persons Killed In the South.

THREE DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI.

Reports From Tunica County Said Three Negroes Were Killed — Their Bodies Carried Three Miles — Three Persons Dead at Lagrange, Tenn.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado bounding through a narrow stretch of territory, extending from a point three miles north of Lula, Miss., to Lagrange, Tenn., caused a heavy loss of life and property.

From meagre details obtainable, covering only three points, it appears that 19 lives were lost and the destruction of property was also heavy. It is believed that in the cyclones between the towns heard from numerous farm houses and and interior communities of more or less considerable population were struck, and these being cut off from the outside, were unable to give notice of their distress. Accompanying the tornado was a rainstorm of terrific proportions.

Lagrange, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado struck this town, causing much damage and killing three persons outright. The dead:

W. C. Moody.

Two negro women.

Injured:

Edward Smith, Southern railway agent, seriously.

The storm made its appearance shortly after midday and swept everything in its path. Eight residences and three churches were destroyed. The damage to cotton in the ball will be great.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado visited North Mississippi, causing loss of life and much property damage. Reports from Lulul, Tunica county, state that three negroes were killed, their bodies having been carried a distance of three miles by the wind. Many buildings were razed to the ground and the damage to crops cannot now be estimated.

EX-REBELS TO HELP.

General MacAbolus, With Natives, Supported by Americans, to Campaign Against Rebels.

Manila, Nov. 21.—General MacAbolus, the former Filipino chief, was prepared to start in pursuit of Aguinaldo with 100 picked natives, supported by American troops. Other ex-rebel Filipinos will be used in campaigning in the country. Their offers had not been formally made yet, but they were ready if the authorities would accept their services.

Aguinaldo, it was supposed, was in Northern Luzon, according to statements made by ex-rebel leaders in Manila, confirmed from other sources.

Aglypay, a renegade native priest, an insurgent leader in Northern Luzon, wrote to friends in Manila, asking for election news and requesting to be informed whether a decision has been reached concerning the relations between church and state and the disposition of church property.

The replies sent him contained the information that church and state will be separate and that entire religious freedom will be allowed.

BANK ROBBERS FAILED.

Unable to Get Safe Open—Citizens Held at Bay—Fired as They Fled. No One Hurt.

Delaware, O., Nov. 21.—A dozen professional bank robbers made a desperate attempt to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnstaff's deposit bank at Ashley, 10 miles north of here. While nine stood on guard, holding the citizens at bay, with their guns, three operated the dynamite under the deposit vault of the bank building. The bank's property is worth $50,000, and there was $15,000 in cash on hand. Attempts were made to get at the cash, but the side door held to its combination while the guards outside were shooting at the citizens, who pressed closely in upon them. Two merchants, first upon the scene, were met by the robbers at the point of guns and bade not to move. The robbers had stolen a horse and spring wagon and a black team and surrey from farmers nearby. The rigs were in front of the bank, ready for flight. The horses ran away, demolishing the vehicles, when the men took across the country on foot. The damage to the bank building, vault and other property is about one-half its value. The party left a Big Four train at Marengo, stole the horses and came to Ashley. They pried open the bank door without being discovered, but the first explosion of dynamite aroused the town. The robbers fired as they fled, but no one was hurt. The men were masked and have not been captured.

WELCOME FOR KRUGER.

He May Not Land at Marseilles Before Tomorrow—A Great Demonstration Arranged.

Marseilles, Nov. 21.—Former President Kruger will probably land here tomorrow, instead of today. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast or the gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid th cr ss seas. She may thus reach this point this evening. Every preparation, however, has been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing today. The police and military are held in readiness and the Boer reception committee has not made any change in the arrangements for the reception at the dock.

It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival here will be the occasion for a great popular demonstration along the route from the dock to the hotel, which is situated on the principal boulevard, known as the Cannebiere, but there will be nothing official about it.

A surprise came in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said, and came ahead on a French steamer. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy and still hoped it would lead to practical results favorable to the cause of his country.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

High Medical Practitioner Says It Has Taken an Unusually Favorable Course.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—A medical practitioner of high standing in the city, who is not connected with the state service, after analyzing the buns from Livadia, told the correspondent that the illness of the czar had taken an unusually favorable course.

"Apparently," he said, "there is more anxiety abroad than there is in Russia. This may be due largely to the statistics of typhoid mortality in this country. But these are misleading. The mortality with us is due to defective care. Russia has only one physician to every 50,000 inhabitants Furnish her with one to every 500, as in the United States, and the results, with equal care, would be as favorable here as anywhere else."

LOOKING UP BROWN'S SHORTAGE.

Experts Find $195,000 and Were Not Yet Through.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—The experts at work on the books of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., report that they have so far found a shortage of $195,000 in the books of Frank M. Brown, the missing cashier, and they are not yet through with their checking.

There have been all kinds of reports about Brown having been seen at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and other points since he left St. Louis last Wednesday, but none of these reports are believed here, and his whereabouts are as much a mystery as ever.

No reward has been offered for him, as the bank is in the hands of Receiver Tucker, and the officers and directors are without authority. As they are responsible for double the amount of their holdings of bank stock, they are not disposed to invest any more on account of Brown, even for his apprehension.

TAX ON TEA STAYS.

Will Remain Part of War Revenue.

IMPORT TARIFFS TO BE LET ALONE.

Republican Members of the House Ways and Means Consider Reduction—Revenues Could Be Reduced $30,000,000. Wilson Also Before Committee.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee met to consider a measure for the reduction of the war revenue tax. The most important action taken was a decision not to remove the tax of 10 cents a pound on tea. The committee will not take up or disturb the tariff on imports, as the members claim it would open up the whole subject of tariff revision.

The committee will not grant any hearings while framing the bill, as full hearings were given during the last session of congress, and since then briefs and statements of various interests have been received. Parties who are interested, however, can file briefs or statements with the committee.

Secretary Gage and Commissioner Wilson, of the internal revenue bureau, were before the committee for some time. The secretary told the committee that in his opinion there might be a reduction in revenues of $30,000,000. The war revenue act now raises about $100,000,000. Commissioner Wilson went over the schedules with the members of the committee, and both he and Secretary Gage were questioned as to where reduction could be made to the best advantage from the treasury viewpoint.

A considerable part of the discussion was confined to schedule B, which taxes medical and proprietary articles and preparations, perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, wines, etc. There was also discussion of stamp taxes.

The discussion indicated that the committee favored quite a change in this feature of the law and reductions wherever possible. The committee also desires to eliminate the taxes on conveyances, of which there has been a great deal of complaint.

It can be stated that in a general way it will be the aim of the committee to abolish the most burdensome taxes and to grant relief from stamp taxes as far as possible.

The committee, late in the day, called on the president to obtain his views on the proposed reduction. Today the committee is to meet again.

After there has been a general interchange of opinion on the proposed reduction, it is quite likely that a sub-committee will be appointed to draft a measure.

It is not believed the bill can be prepared and ready for the full committee until the session begins. The measure, after it is agreed upon by the Republicans, will be submitted to the Democrats of the committee.

Suggestion has been made that the oleomargarine bill now on the house calendar, and made a special order for Dec. 6, might be made a part of the war revenue reduction bill. Representative Tawney, the father of the oleomargarine bill, when asked about this, said that the oleomargarine bill would be passed by the house early in the session, so that an opportunity would be given to ascertain if there was a disposition to defeat the measure in the senate by any unusual delay. In such case he intimated that the oleomargarine bill might be made a part of the revenue reduction bill in the senate.

GAINED IN STRENGTH.

Favorable Symptoms In Senator Davis' Condition — Able to Assimilate Nourishment.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—The condition of United States Senator Davis was reported unchanged. Previously at Senator Davis' house it was stated that the physicians had reported their patient as being stronger than for two days before. The delirium, it was understood, continues and this is the worst symptom. The respiration was eight above normal and the temperature slightly higher than the day before. The pulse was exactly as it was the day before. Food and a tonic were taken in the usual quantities and digested without discomfort. This ability of the stomach to receive and of the system to assimilate nourishment is the one factor upon which the sick statesman must rely in his prolonged fight with disease. While at times his friends are encouraged to believe that with the help of nature he has conquered the destructive agency of his blood, a little later they are compelled to believe that Senator Davis is fighting a battle which he cannot win.

The symptoms were slightly encouraging because of the patient's perceptible gain in strength.

GREETING FROM M'KINLEY.

Sent a Message to Pennsylvania Endeavor Convention—Fine Growth of the Society.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union last night appropriately opened its fourteenth annual convention. There were delegates present from all parts of the state.

At the Baptist temple Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, delivered the address of welcome, which wae responded to by Bishop C. L. Moench, of Lititz.

State Secretary George McDonald's annual report was mainly statistical. Among other things he said:

"Tonight I am glad to say that we have enrolled 11 senior, 12 mothers, 3,179 young people's, 137 intermediate and 1,385 junior societies, a total of 4,724, with a membership of 245,648. This, you will notice, is a net increase of 20 societies for the year, and demonstrates the permanency of this movement in our state."

Treasurer J. Henry Stauff's report showed total receipts of $2,143 and expenditures of $1,280.23.

State President Eberman's annual dress was then read, of which he reviewed the past work of the state union, and said that reports from county and local unions, as well as from individual societies, reveal an encouraging and hopeful condition.

The meeting in the Second regiment armory was attended by an audience of nearly 5,000 people, in addition to the chorus choir of 800. Rev. Marion J. Kline, presiding officer of the meeting, read a letter from President McKinley, containing the following:

"Please extend my cordial greetings to the members of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union assembled in convention in Philadelphia, and my wish that their efforts may accomplish much for the noble work in which they are engaged."

Following the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Rev. C. W. Bickley, Rev. William Patterson made a short address welcoming the delegates to Philadelphia, to which Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, responded.

The rest of the programme consisted of the address of State President Eberman, reports of the secretary and treasurer and a prayer service led by Rev. W. R. Laird, of West Chester.

CHURCH NEARLY COMPLETE.

Fine Catholic Structure Almost Finished at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 21.—St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, at Thirty-seventh and Bank streets, is now rapidly nearing completion, having been in course of erection since July 1, 1899. It will be one of the largest and handsomest structures in Western Pennsylvania, and will represent an expenditure of $200,000 when completed. The ground upon which it is built was purchased at a cost of $50,000 and extends from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets, along Bank street, at the side of the monastery of the Capuchin Fathers, which order has had charge of the church since 1873.

A gift of $100,000 from the late A. Frauenheim made the building of the new edifice possible.

A CRISIS IN CHINA.

Allies Resolve Upon Stronger Measures.

EMPRESS COMMANDS RESISTANCE

Said to Have Warned Governors and Viceroys to Prepare For Struggle—The Viceroy of Nankin Questioned as to His Attitude, by Allies.

London, Nov. 21.—"At last," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, "the allies in Pekin have resolved upon stronger measures to bring maters to a crisis. They have asked the viceroy of Nankin to state definitely his position toward the Chinese court and the question of forwarding supplies."

"It is credibly reported," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, "that the empress dowager has telegraphed a secret decree warning all governors and viceroys to prepare for immediate war against the allies everywhere."

AMERICA WON'T BE OUSTED.

Proposes to Keep Some Troops In China, Until Our Interests Are Conserved.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Chinese situation was the main topic under consideration at the cabinet meeting. The administration is not disposed to join with the other governments in making demands upon the Chinese imperial authorities which the Chinese government cannot comply with.

So far as our government is advised, the foreign ministers at Pekin have not yet agreed upon all points under such proposals as look to the prevention of the partition of China and the guarantee of the "open door" to all comers, yet it begins to appear from the course of the negotiations that either these promises were not sincere in all cases, or that some of the makers, honestly have changed their minds as to what shall be done for the present in China.

It may be stated, however, that the United States government does not propose to be driven out of the concert relative to China at this juncture in the negotiations.

All our troops will not be withdrawn until all proper interests of the United States in China have been conserved.

DEFENDS MISSIONARIES.

Wu Ting Fang Declared They Were Not to Blame For the Trouble In China.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, who arrived here from Washington, delivered an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He said in part:

Mr. Wu, in the course of his remarks, said the cause of the anti-foreign feeling in China is commonly supposed to be due entirely to the missionaries. This charge, he said, is unfair, for the missionaries, while in cases they have been indiscreet, have done much good in China. The general attitude of foreigners, he said, has had much to do with their unpopularity. They frequently treat the customs, traditions and institutions of the country with contemp, and in this way excite ill feeling. While some foreigners treat the Chinese with every consideration, unfortunately the mischief done by others counterbalances the favorable impression.

Heroic Missionaries Going Back.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The steamship China, which sails for the Orient, will take back the first missionaries that have ventured into China since the Boxer outbreak. Among those who will depart are Rev. Dr. Trowick and his bride. The former is from Nashville and the latter from Louisville. They go to Shanghai.

Haeseler Died of Typhoid.

New York, Nov. 21.—Lieutenant Francis Joy Haeseler, U. S. A., died at the naval hospital here of typhoid fever. Lieutenant Haeseler was eminent as an electrician, and was an expert in the application of compressed air in mechanics. In the battle off Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of Cevera's fleet, Lieutenant Haeseler was in charge of the starboard turret of the battleship Texas, and earned high praise for the way in which his guns were served.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Fury of a Shot Ignited Gas—One Man Killed and Four Injured.

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 21.—A frightful explosion of gas occurred in the Ellsworth No. 1 mine, near this place.

The dead:

Cyrus Lear, a machine boss and a native of England; skull fractured and badly burned about the body; died at the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg.

The injured:

John Kervitch, an Austrian, aged 30 years; burned about the head and body.

George Morav, an Austrian, aged 28 years; burned about the body and right arm and leg broken.

John Steice, aged 35 years; cut and bruised and injured internally.

Emilio Assissi, an Austrian, several bones broken and cut about the head and limbs.

The explosion was caused by the firing of a shot, which ignited the gas. It is a mystery how so much gas came to be in the mine wihtout the knowledge of the miners, and a thorough investigation will be made at once.

Sweigard, former superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, who is charged by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with having discharged employes of the Reading company because they were members of the Brotherhood.

Large Sales In Northern Pacific—Movements In Iron and Steel Irregular.

New York, Nov. 21.—The sales of Northern Pacific on Tuesday foot up, according to the customary approximate calculations, 201,800 shares for the common stock and 75,600 shares for the preferred stocks, a total of 277,400 shares. The common stock rose an extreme 6¼ and the preferred 6⅛. Various causes doubtless served to congest the speculation in these stocks. For one reason, there was but languid interest in the general market and the eager army of operators and speculators who are watching for available openings failed to find any until the movement in Northern Pacific developed. The volume and character of the dealings in the stocks, however, precluded the idea of a purely speculative operation.

The movement in the iron and steel stocks was exceedingly irregular, and a number of other specialties which have had recent notable advances hung back Tuesday. As a consequence, the day's net changes were exceedingly uneven, and not a few declines were mixed in with the notable gains. The conspicuously strong stocks, besides the Northern Pacifics, were the Union Pacifics, Great Northern preferred, the Atchisons, Missouri Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grandes and the Baltimore and Ohios. Among the industrials and specialties the Steel and Wire stocks, Federal Steel, the Tobaccos, People's Gas, Sugar, North American and International Power were conspicuous. After a sharp reaction on profit taking the Northern Pacifics rallied, carrying the whole market with them, and the closing was very animated and buoyant at about the top level.

IN SPITE OF THE PROTEST.

A British Ship Seized by Colombia to Transport Troops, Etc.

Panama, Nov. 21.—The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian government was due to the fact that the agent of the Pacific Steam Navigation company, to which she belonged, refused to sell or charter the vessel for the purpose of conveying government troops to Buenaventura, which was besieged by the Liberals.

The British consul here, C. Mallet, entered a strong protest against the seizure, but it was of no avail. He then communicated with his government on the subject. No reply has yet been received from London. The Taboga, with the government troops, etc., on board, arrived at Buenaventura, whereupon the Liberals retired.

Rev. Stuart Admitted to Bail.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—Rev. Stuart waived a hearing before Squire Hess, of Wyoming, on a charge of abortion, alleged to have been committed on his wife, now dead, and was sent to jail. Afterwards the squire admitted Stuart to $1,500 bail for a hearing today, as counsel claimed the offense was a mere misdemeanor and was bailable. It is said a charge of murder will be preferred later on.

To Honor Liscum's Memory.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 21.—The house of representatives adopted a joint resolution authorizing the governor to have painted a portrait of General E. H. Liscum, a native of Vermont, who was killed in China. The portrait is to be placed in the state house.

A French Joke.

Two tramps on the banks of the Seine:

"How can we raise the wind?"

"I have it. You throw yourself in, and I'll jump in after you and take you out. Then I'll get the reward from the Humane society."

"Good! Here goes!" He jumped into the water, and after floundering about for some time he was getting tired out. "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain sitting there? Why don't you come in and take me out?"

"Because I think I might make more out of you in the morgue."—Paris Journal.

Corrected.

"In your first edition," said the judge's henchman, "you say, 'Judge Booz, throughout yesterday's session of court, was as drunk as it was possible for him to be.' He was sober, and I want you to correct it."

"All right," replied the editor of The Evening Wasp. "We'll change it in our next edition. You're welcome! Good day, sir. (Pause.) Mr. Copikutter, strike out 'drunk' and insert 'sober' in that paragraph."—Philadelphia Press.

THE MINGO STRIKE SETTLED.

Wages Adjusted—Mills to Resume Maybe Tomorrow or Friday.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—At a conference last evening at the Mingo Junction office of the National Steel company, between District Monager A. B. Carter, of Wheeling, representing the company, and Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburg, representing the Amalgamated association, the differences existing in regard to the wage scale at that plant were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The company, it will be remembered, proposed a reduction of 33 per cent recently, which the men declined. The settlement provides for a reduction of 25 per cent, and the mills will resume tomorrow or Friday. The change in wages is really not a reduction, as the modern reconstruction of the mills has largely increased the output.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1900.

STAY OUT.

Stay out of where? Out of the saloon, of course. Why? Because its open door is a passage way to the three "D's." What three "D's?" Dishonor, Death and Damnation.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

Practical education should be the special feature in our great public school system. First the rudimentary work, of course; next the solids; and then, if you see fit, the fol de rols.

QUIT IT.

Quit profanity. Why? Because it is unnecessary, vile, wrong, a sign of weakness and loss of self-control and true manhood; and, finally, because it is in direct opposition to the command of your Heavenly Father.

PENMANSHIP.

Is it an essential feature in a common school education? To our mind, and in our opinion, it is a matter of great importance. Poor penmanship has robbed many a bright young man of a remunerative situation.

KEEP IT UP.

Keep what up. Your spirit of push and hustle and energy. Why? Because it will do you good. Because it will please and benefit your employer. Because it will render your services desirable and you can always command a good salary.

DROP IT.

Drop what? Drop that cigarette, and let it stay dropped, or your employer will drop you. Don't get impudent and say that "he will not." He's thinking of letting you go at this very moment. Why? Simply because you're becoming a cigarette fiend.

EXPRESS SERVICE.

A prominent grocer was indulging in left-handed compliments this morning respecting the express service in connection with our city. His language was lurid and exceedingly uncomplimentary toward the object of his denunciations, and will not admit of repetition on this page. He asserts that he has plenty of backers and that they will be heard from in due time, and that there will be a monkey and a parrot time when the matter materializes.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

The desecration of the Sabbath day has become a painfully apparent feature in East Liverpool; and to this feature can be attributed much of the vice, immorality and lawlessness of our citizenship. The Sabbath desecrator may apparently succeed for the time being; but he is sure to be a failure in the long run. There can be no exceptions to this rule of the Almighty. "Vengeance is mine. I will repay," saith the Lord. The handwriting is on the wall. Have a care. Laugh now, if you will. You will have ample time to indulge in crying.

THE OHIO RIVER.

Our river reporter, a prophet on big rivers and boating stages, informs us that there will be sufficient water in the Ohio river bed tomorrow evening to float out the bottoms which are laden with black diamonds, and which are so badly needed here and at the lower ports.

POOR SERVICE.

The street railway company is, for some unknown reasons, giving very poor and unsatisfactory service, causing bitter complaint on the part of the public which travels over its lines. Denunciations are coming to this office constantly on the part of East End and Wellsville patrons. The statement is made that the general equipment of the line is worn out and that much needed repairs fail to materialize. At the hours when the toilers need transportation the cars are literally packed and jammed with human freight, every available inch of space being occupied, while "hangers on" are numerous. This is not in keeping with the splendid service which Manager Healy has been giving the public in the past, and they cannot understand the cause of the miserable service now prevailing. There must be a remedy; the traveling public will not bear the strain much longer. There is a point at which forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

ADVERTISE.

"Why shall I advertise?" Because it will pay you to do so. "How do you know that it will?" Because history repeats itself. The successful business man is the man who advertises. "Yes, I'll admit that that is the rule. But there are exceptions. I can cite a case where a business man is surrounded by business men who advertise liberally, and the man I refer to don't spend a cent in advertising; and yet he does a good business. How do you account for this?" That's an easy one, my friend. I've been there before. I've had just such an illustration in my business life. I can remember when we had a man in our town who did just as you have described. And he made money for quite a while. And then the business men soured on him and refused to associate with him and call him one of their number. Later on, the purchasing public became posted respecting his stinginess and imposition on his fellows, and he was eventually compelled, through loss of custom, to sell out and go elsewhere, despite the fact that he had one of the very best locations in the entire neighborhood; and the man who took his place, in the same line of business, a liberal advertiser, made money from the start and is still raking in his net share of the ducats.

"REFORM COMMITTEE."

There exists a superb organization in Sandusky, Ohio, known as the "Reform Committee." It devotes its spare time to indicting lawbreakers, and especially the keepers of dives and saloons who indulge in the sale of intoxicants on Sunday. Why should we fail to have an organization in East Liverpool? What city of like size in Ohio stands more in need of such a society, embracing men of all parties and creeds; courageous men; fearless men; men who have the best interests of our city at heart; men who are heart sick and weary of trifling with fellows who have no respect for law or for decency; men who object to their wives and children seeing drunken loafers staggering along our thoroughfares on the Sabbath day; men who are determined that the saloonists of this city shall obey the law or take the consequences; men who will see that the next non-partisan vote on the question of saloons or no saloons shall be conducted in a manner which will show the true wish of our people, when only those legally entitled to vote shall cast a ballot. By all means let us have a non-partisan reform committee in East Liverpool.

STREET CLEANING.

An Elegant Job of This Morning is Fully Appreciated by This Citizen.

"Editor News Review—The rain came as a blessing this morning, delighting those who are short of coal and who have been anxiously longing for a rise in the river. It also came as a blessing to farmers who are owners of stock. And, finally, it came as a blessing in the cleaning of our streets, many of which have been sadly neglected by some one in authority. A glance down Fourth, from Broadway, shows the avenue in better condition from the standpoint of cleanliness, than it has been for many months past; and other avenues, streets and alleys have been benefited in a similar manner.

Beds and Sleeping.

A German doctor has been investigating the question of beds, and the result of his labors has been lately given to the world in the pages of a German journal. In the first place, to convince mankind of the importance of his subject, the doctor reminds all mankind that we spend from one-fourth to one-third of our lives in bed, after which he proceeds to advise the world on the healthiest kind of couch and the most sensible manner of reposing thereon.

A hard bed appears to be the best, and it is laid down that children from the earliest years should be trained to sleep on these hard beds. Soft beds are too warm and do not admit sufficient air. Even in the case of the hard bed the sleeper is warned to see that his covering, whether woolen or cotton, is not so heavy that the body is kept overwarm and fresh air is excluded. This ventilation, according to our authority, is all important. But what will middle aged people say when the man of science bids them dispense with their pillows? Pillows, he declares, are evils, and it is right that we should sleep with limbs uncramped on a perfectly horizontal plane. Knowing the weakness of human flesh, however, the doctor declares that if pillows are retained they should be neither too soft nor too thick.

A point on which most people will agree with this authority is the necessity for constant (the doctor asks for daily) airing and sunning of the bedding. Much ill health may be attributed to carelessness in this matter.—London Globe.

A Story of Whistler.

The Boston Transcript says: "A diverting anecdote is told of the boyhood of Mr. Whistler, the greatest modern impressionist. He was apprenticed to some engineers who were etching elaborate maps on copper. One day his employer asked him if he also could etch maps on copper. 'Oh, yes. I can etch,' promptly answered young Whistler.

"As a matter of fact he had never used an etching needle in his life. However, they gave him the copper, and he set to work, making a very fine and beautiful map. But round the edges of the plate, which when bitten in with acid are always stopped out, he etched some characteristic little sketches of the different members of the firm, including a very humorous one of the chief himself.

"Shortly after he happened to go away for a week or two for his holiday. Meantime the plate had been bitten in and printed with all of the dreadful little caricatures that he had forgotten to stop out appearing in startling prominence, the sketch of the chief being especially remarkable because of its great resemblance to that gentleman, who was so enraged at the indignity of the thing that immediately on Whistler's return he dismissed him."

The Gold Brick Swindle.

"The gold brick swindle," said a business man quoted in the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "is one of the most plausible propositions ever advanced and has landed some of the cleverest business men in the country. A number of years ago it used to be a common thing for banks in the west to buy gold bricks—I mean real ones—and frequently there were the best of reasons for keeping the transaction quiet.

"It often happened that the owner of some partly developed mine would make an unexpected strike and wish to buy the adjacent property. Naturally he would want to hold back the news of his discovery until he secured the land and if he had any bullion to dispose of would make the sale as quietly as possible. The banks became accustomed to deals of that kind and were consequently pretty easy prey for the gold brick swindler who turned up with a precisely similar story.

"I don't believe I exaggerate when I say that fully one-third of all the banking houses in the western mineral belt were at some time victimized by this game."

EAST END.

A MOVEMENT TO REVOKE FRANCHISE

East End People Are Hearily Tired of the Present Street Car Service.

TWO INCIDENTS THIS MORNING

The Royal Tigers Will Accept the Challenge of the National Guards.

ALL THE NEWS OF EAST END

A street car ran off the track at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Mulberry street this morning, and a great deal of inconvenience was occasioned. The gravel about the track was washed out, letting the rail down.

About a dozen passengers were drenched to the skin on board a west bound street car this morning while the heavy rain was in progress. Manager Healy was a passenger and was compelled to take his medicine along with the rest.

The rain poured into the car from all sides through holes in the woodwork and broken panes of glass. Some amusement was created by George McKinnon, who hoisted his umbrella in the car and protected himself as best he could from the elements.

A prominent city official who resides in East End is authority for the statement that there is a movement on foot, which, unless a better service is furnished, will result in the franchise of the company being revoked.

LOUD TALK.

Four or Five Men Had a Discussion at the Corner of Mulberry Street.

A great deal of disturbance was created on the railroad near Mulberry street last night, in which four or five men indulged in a great deal of loud talk and it looked as though a fight would result.

Officer Hamilton appeared on the scene and dispersed the crowd, but one of the men insisted upon having trouble and some time afterward appeared in the street in front of a saloon, where he doffed his coat and wanted to whip the whole town. Some of his friends got hold of the fellow and he was taken home.

BUSINESS MEETING HELD AT CHESTER U. P. CHAPEL.

Officers Were Elected, And the Congregation Listened to a Short Sermon by Dr. Taggart.

A business meeting was held in the Chester United Presbyterian chapel last evening, and some 38 members of the congregation were present. Dr. Taggart was present and presided at the meeting and announced that the object of the gathering was for the purpose of forming a church organization.

The following elders were elected: Joseph Wyllie, Murray Nickel, E. A. Smith and J. N. Finley. The latter gentleman has not yet consented to serve in the capacity, but it is thought he may be prevailed upon to accept.

The trustees were: J. W. Finley, Oliver Hall and Enoch Riley.

The congregation starts off with a membership of 38, and in addition to these seven other members are in the vicinity, but have not yet connected themselves with the church.

Dr. Taggart urged the new organization to call a pastor at as early a day as possible, and closed with a brief address on the "Mission of the Church."

It is likely the Chester church will, within the next few weeks, issue a call to Rev. Gillis, who has said he would be glad to return to Chester.

Strength In Aluminium.

In reply to the question which, it is said, metal workers frequently ask, "What is the strength of aluminium?" The Aluminium World says that cast aluminium is about equal in strength to cast iron in tension, while in resisting compression it is comparatively weak. Under transverse strain aluminium is not very rigid, but it will bend nearly double before breaking. The tensile strength of aluminium is greatly improved by forging and pressing at a temperature of 600 degrees F., and aluminium alloyed with nickel is much stronger than the pure metal.

FOOT OF WASHINGTON STREET

The Car Went Almost to the Railroad Track Before It Stopped.

BETTER SERVICE IS NEEDED

Below is given a number of facts in regard to the service given the people by the East Liverpool Street Railway company:

Street car No. 1, in charge of Motorman George Custer, while going down the Washington street hill last night got beyond the control of the motorman and dashed down the hill at a terrible speed. When the curve was reached the car left the rails and ran almost to the railroad.

A number of passengers were on the car and they received a bad scare. A team of horses were secured and the car was again placed on the rails.

Early in the evening a car going west was stalled on the Washington street hill, but the motorman succeeded in preventing it from going back, while the necessary repairs were made.

There was not a car to East End between 6 and 7 o'clock. One car burnt out and in a short time there was five in a bunch.

The Calcutta road car is supposed to be fitted with the latest safety device. That device consists of a large block of wood held by an ordinary clothes line, doubled and fastened to the trucks with chains. Should the car get away from the motorman he could drop the log in front of the car wheels.

Section 6 of the ordinance granting a franchise to the East Liverpool Railway company says:

"Said railroad company, its successors and assigns, shall place and continue on said roads good cars with all modern improvements for the convenience and comfort of passengers, to be propelled by horses, electricity, cable or other suitable power as may be approved by council, and shall run them as often as the public convenience may require, and under such direction as the city council may from time to time require or prescribe."

It is probable the matter will be taken up by council at the next meeting.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF A SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

A Large Number of Items of Interest Gathered in the Little Village.

The Ohio Sunday School association convened in the Presbyterian church of this place Friday afternoon and evening.

First session at 2 p. m. Rev. Pennel, of the Elkton circuit, Methodist Episcopal church, was the first to speak, his theme being the "Teachers' Meeting." He handled it in a very interesting manner and his short address was packed full of common sense.

Mrs. Adelaide Scott, of Rogers, came next with "The Preparation of the Teacher," which reflected that deep thought and skillful preparation to be expected of a woman with Mrs. Scott's well trained mind and resources.

Dr. McCauley, of Salem, came next with Bible in hand and entertained his audience with some old fashioned scripture reading, and talk of how to conduct a Sunday school. He answered all questions in an able manner.

The evening session opened at 7 o'clock with Rev. J. P. Anderson, of Lisbon, and reinforcements from Rogers, both to the choir and a quartet of gentlemen, composed of the following: Profs. McCommon and Greenwalt and Caskey and the editor of the Noon-Tide, J. Harry Reed, who entertained the audience with several fine selections.

Rev. J. P. Anderson presented the work of the state association, statistics and all, without a dull moment of time, and the fine audience which had gathered for the evening session came away with a knowledge of the workings of the association, which they never possessed before.

Dr. McCauley again gave a scripture reading and talk, which was very much appreciated.

Prof. Greenwalt, of Rogers, recited, in his own inimical way, "When Jamie Came Back."

The choir of the Presbyterian church, Miss Eva Vale leader and organist, was up to its level best and ready at a moment's notice to perform its share of the work.

Rev. McCombs Pastor was not able to be present. Mr. Elder, of Lisbon, came with Mr. Anderson. Dr. Stanton Crawford, of Rogers, was present in the evening. William Lones and family, of Cream Ridge, drove over and was present at the evening session, notwithstanding hills, cliffs, distance and darkness. Why, out west they do better than that—they journey over all kinds of impassable and impossible roads on horse back, three and four hundred miles for the privilege of attending a Sunday School convention.

The occasion was very pleasant, and we hope to entertain the association again.

Chalmers Saint has been on the sick list for several days.

Mrs. John Souders is getting along nicely—the broken leg is not giving trouble, but seems to be healing.

The church is very pleasantly warm since the old stoves have been abandoned and a furnace put in.

Mrs. Charity Gaston is reported to be growing in health and strength with prospects of recovery. She has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Feezle, in the Bell district, and is expected home this week.

The editor of the Noon-Tide, J. Harry Reed, of Rogers, took an active part in the Sunday School convention and was a member of the quartet.

Harvey Elliott, of Negley, is teaching the district school here, and Elmer Warrick at New Harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gaston expect to visit Mrs. Gaston's father, brother and sister in California this winter. They will leave in a few weeks. Her father, William Conkle, is an old-time resident of this county and will be remembered by many of your readers.

The tenant house on the Warrick farm is nearing completion and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Elder Huston, of East Carmel.

Homer Warrick has built a nice cottage on a lot of his father's farm close to town.

Mrs. M. A. Feezle is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Natrona, Pa.

A COMPLAINT.

Sheridan Avenue Family Are Not Properly Disposing of Their Garbage.

Complaint is being made by a number of families on Sheridan avenue of the action of a family in that vicinity, who, instead of having their garbage hauled away by the people who have the contract with the city to do such work, burn it in an outhouse, thereby annoying everyone in the neighborhood.

Unless a stop is put to the practice complaint will be made to the authorities.

THANK YOU.

This Merchant Gives The News Review Warm Words of Commendation.

A prominent merchant of East Liverpool, a keen business man and a very close observer of trade, said to the owner and manager of this paper:

"You are publishing a clean, bright, newsy paper. I read it every evening, and make note of the advertisements as well, as I am especially interested in such matters, being an advertiser myself and watching closely the interests of myself and partners. I believe that every man welcomes words of commendation, given in the right manner and coming from the right source. I keep a line of good goods; articles which I sell very close, having but a light margin, and am of course anxious to make them move rapidly, and I want to tell you that I find the News Review to be a first-class sheet to assist me in moving these goods, and I know that it pays me well to advertise with you."

We thanked the wide-awake business man heartily for his good words, and we thank him for his patronage and his monthly checks, which are as good as so much gold, and we are willing to form the business acquaintance of a host of such advertisers.

THE HEAD OF MOSES.

WHY THE LEADER OF ISRAEL IS REPRESENTED WITH HORNS.

The Error Which Gave Root to the Curious Idea That Is Perpetuated by Paintings, Coins and Statues. Michael Angelo's Masterpiece.

In one of the schools of the District is a copy of Michael Angelo's "Moses." That small statuette was a storm center for weeks, the pupils and teachers vying with each other in an attempt to find an answer to the question of one of the small pupils who gravely queried the why of the incipient horns which ornamented the head of the rugged leader of the Israelites as he is represented in this masterpiece of Michael Angelo's, a masterpiece, by the way, which started out to be a Jove or some other fiction of the brain, but which the great sculptor finally shaped into the likeness of Pope Julius and christened "Moses."

For 40 years, just as long as Moses and his people wandered in the wilderness, this statue stood in the workshop of its gifted creator before the world saw it, but it types today the universal conception of the great lawgiver, horns and all.

It has been known for centuries, though, that the translation of Habakkuk, which says, "And his brightness was as light; he had horns coming out of his head," is incorrect and the mistake of the "intelligent compositor," who in his illuminated text got mixed up on his "a's" and "e's" and made "qaran" head "qeren," as nearly as Hebrew can be made into cold English. The former means "rays;" the latter means "horns," and there you are.

St. Jerome in rendering "his face shone" in the passage in Exodus gave it its primitive meaning and mistranslation and has sent down to us through the ages "faciem esse cornatam," being "his face was horned." Thus it seems that a mistake stereotyped in stone remains to torment the youth who likes to know the why of things.

Just why artists and sculptors keep on perpetuating this idea is one of the inscrutable things of life. But more than anybody else perhaps artists cling to tradition, and since the great masters gave Moses horns it must be the proper thing to do, and that is probably why he wears horns in modern as well as mediæval art.

In the Congressional library, on the south side of the big sunflower clock, is a gigantic bronze Moses by Niehaus, and he has horns that look not unlike those wonderful bumps that Ben Butler's big head used to wear. In the Boston library John Sargeant, the great painter, for a centerpiece to a procession of the prophets painted Moses with full front view and horns like a Texas steer, and infolding him is a queer conventional kind of drapery that looks like eagles' wings.

In striking and pleasing contrast to these horned conceptions which the ancients have imposed upon us and which we still accept is a copy of a splendid Moses by Plockhorst representing the archangel Michael struggling with Satan for the dead body of Moses, which is upborne by three little angels. The Moses has instead of horns upon his grandly conceived head rays of light which seem to mellow and soften the stern face of the dead lawgiver. Plockhorst has painted real child angels, too, not fat little kids with legs and arms like prizefighters and bodies like beer tanks. This heliotint, which is in the library of congress, is a present from the royal gallery in Berlin.

Nicolas Poussin painted some 20 pictures of Moses from a pudgy little baby in the bulrush basket to Moses "on gray Bethpeor's height," some of them with horns and some of them without. Five of these pictures are of the baby in the water and just out of it, and the heads are as varied as those of Columbus on the exposition postage stamps. Some of them look like advertisements for hair restoratives and others as though wigs would enhance the appearance of the baldheaded babies whose painted faces look as many years old as the baby Moses had lived minutes when found by Thermutis. Another by this author has horns that extend out from the sides of the head like the ears of a mule and represents Moses as striking the rock in the wilderness. This is a very funny picture, anyway, for the camels have heads like horses, and the horses look like almost anything that stands on four legs excepting horses.

This curious idea of a horned Moses has not only been perpetuated by paintings, coins and statues, but has also passed muster with many writers of acknowledged fame. Grotius, for instance, identifies Moses with the horned Mnevis of Egypt and suggests that the phenomenon was intended to remind the Israelites of the golden calf. Spanheim, however, stigmatizes the efforts of art in this direction as "preposterous industry" and distinctly attributes to Jerome a veritable belief in the horns of Moses. Crude as is the mistranslation not one person in ten, as the schoolteachers and pupils found out, have any idea why it is that artists and sculptors still depict Moses with horns.—Washington Star.

It has been found on study of 300 cases of loss of hair that baldness prevails most with unmarried men, which is contrary to the general belief. The worries of the bachelor may be fewer, but they are more trying to the scalp than are the multitudinous cares of the man of family. Most bald people are found to lead indoor lives, and almost all of them belong to the intellectual class. Usually the loss of hair begins before the thirtieth year. In woman it usually constitutes a general thinning; in men it affects the top of the head. Diseases that affect the general nutrition of the body are likely to thin the hair. Heredity is a factor. If one has baldheaded ancestors, all the drugs of the pharmacopœia will not bring out flowing locks.

Happy old age

Many women who have enjoyed good health all their life begin to fade when they reach the age of forty-four. They grow nervous and irritable and suffer with sick-headaches. Their livers are torpid, their digestion is impaired and their bowels are irregular. They are experiencing the "change of life." And it is not strange that the cessation of the menstrual habit after thirty years operation should disturb the system and tax the strongest constitution. This trying period has no terror for a woman who uses Wine of Cardui. It builds up her strength and prepares her for the ordeal. When the change of life is not safely passed, a woman quickly becomes an invalid. Slumbering disease germs are given increased activity and they appear in aggravated form. If you take Wine of Cardui regularly when approaching the change of life you will be assured better health than you have ever enjoyed before. A happy old age and restful calm will be your reward. Mrs. Campbell was cured after suffering three years with "change of life." Thedford's Black-Draught, the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui, assimilates with it perfectly, curing digestive liver and kidney affections, and throwing impurities and disease germs out of the system. Both working together make a well and happy woman.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

YOUNGS, Laurens Co., S. C., Sept. 22, 1898.
I have recommended your Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught to several of my lady friends, and I can say they are what you recommend them to be. I have been suffering three years with the "change of life." [illegible] did not get anything that would do me any good until I tried your medicines. I give thanks to Wine of Cardui and you, for it relieved me. Mrs. D. H. CAMPBELL.
